FEASTING OF TAX FRAMERS IS PRESENTED

Murmurings Heard on Banquets for Press and Legislators by "Tax Clubs"

HINT UNDUE PRESSURE

Ways and Means Committee Has Over 100 Applications for Hearings

Washington, D. C.—Murmurings which are perhaps the forerunner of congressional inquiry are being heard about the various "tax clubs" which are descending on Washington in private cars and serving sumptuous banquets for members of congress and the press.

The motive is legitimate—to influence congress to make a scientific tax law—but the method is calculated to arouse antagonism.

It is hard for people outside of Washington to understand why so free American citizens they can't organize and come to the national capital and urge their theories of legislation without running into opposition. But there's something about the congressional temperament which is inimical to such a mood of resistance to formally organized movements to affect legislation.

WANT REFORM

The tax clubs are born of a desire to tell congress that the taxpayers, especially those upon whom the greatest burden of taxation falls, are asking for reform not merely because of their own business but because every set of tax rate affects in some way the cost of living and conditions of employment for the millions who pay no direct taxes or a small portion thereof.

Some of the tax clubs are plainly saying they intend to go back home and tell the people what their representatives in Washington are saying. Thus the Iowa Tax Club gave a polite hint to that effect to Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee at a banquet Wednesday night. The Texas Tax Club appeared before the ways and means committee and Representative Garner, ranking Democrat, said he hadn't heard of the organization before but listened respectfully to their suggestions. Now the Georgia Tax Club will be next to be heard.

MANY APPLY

Upwards of 100 organizations have asked for an opportunity to be heard before the ways and means committee and in that number are probably a number of state tax clubs.

The movement is in some respects novel, for these clubs are not asking for a special concession, as is the custom when interested parties apply for particular tariff reductions but for the committee's support of proposals like that advanced by the secretary of treasury. The clubs are composed of eminent men in the local communities, men who are by no means involved in party politics and whose influence "back home" cannot be ignored.

The idea of bringing the constituency closer to the member of congress in this way commended itself to the tax associations as likely to help get a scientific law, but even the most legitimate of organizations meets congressional frowns when there is any appearance of organized wealth.

AGAINST ESTATE TAX

Washington, D. C.—Abandonment by the federal government to the states of revenue from inheritance taxes was asked by half a dozen state governors Friday before the house ways and means committee.

Imposition of the levy was described as an invasion of state rights and a diversion into the federal treasury of money needed by the states.

Declarations by committee members that the wealthy could escape the tax by moving to Florida, which has no state inheritance tax led to proposals for retention of the federal tax as check.

Secretary Mellon has asked repeal of the federal tax. The governors who appeared at Friday morning's session were Walker of Georgia, Whitfield of Mississippi, Thickett of Virginia, McLean of North Carolina, McLeod of South Carolina and Peay of Tennessee.

HAS DEVICE TO WEIGH GERMS, TEST EINSTEIN

New York—(AP)—The most sensitive measuring instrument in existence—one which will react to the receipt of 1-250,000,000,000 part of an ounce—has been perfected by Ralph C. Hart of the physics department of Columbia university to test the Einstein theory.

The instrument has been used successfully to record the effect produced in a fraction of a second by the changing position of the moon or the gravitational attraction which the earth exerts on a subject weighing 1-250,000,000 part of an ounce.

After the experiment of the Einstein theory which will take place this winter, the instrument will be used in an effort to weigh molecules.

BLAINE PARDONS MOTHER JAILED FOR KILLING SON

Governor Refuses to Believe Milwaukee Woman Committed Alleged Crime

Madison—(AP)—One absolute and seven conditional pardons and five commutations of sentences were announced by Governor Blaine. Theresa Kodre, convicted in Milwaukee of murder in connection with the suffocation of her 8-year-old son from gas, was made eligible to parole.

The Kodre woman was sentenced Nov. 3, 1923, for 15 years in state prison. The executive stated there was doubt as to whether she was guilty of the murder charge or whether the holding over of water while she was ill put the gas burner out.

The absolute pardon was granted to Luther B. Davis, sentenced in Winnebago Nov. 8, 1924, to pay a $300 fine or spend 60 days in jail for selling non-intoxicating liquors without a license. A stay of execution was granted pending action on the pardon application.

Conditional pardons were granted to Frank Gaiske, Marathon co., W. E. Blumenthal, Rock co., Donald Clark, Milwaukee; Daniel Morrissey, Portage co., Harold Pellegri, Milwaukee; James Houlder, Barron co.; and Vincent Falar, Milwaukee.

Gaiske was convicted of chicken stealing, Blumenthal of liquor possession, Clark of a statutory offense, Morrissey of a dry law offense, Pellegri of a statutory charge, Falar of wife abandonment and Houlder of making home brew.

Sentences were commuted in the cases of Tony Nelson, Fond du Lac, for liquor possession, Simon Loeser, Milwaukee, for a statutory offense, William Shaffer, Chippewa co., for liquor possession, Glase Thompson, Milwaukee, for assault and robbery, Joseph Guile, for embezzlement. Thirty-two applications were not acted upon or denied.

100-YEAR-OLD WOMAN DIES IN MINNESOTA

St. Paul, Minn.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Frendergast, 106 years old, mother of four children, all dead, died here Thursday after an illness which kept her bedridden for the last six years. She came from Ireland. She is survived by six grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

SIXTY'S SHOT ON APPLETON COURSE BEST OF SEASON

Milwaukee—(AP)—Wisconsin golfers have scored 28 aces during the season's records up to Oct. 17 show this flood of Tee shots finding the cup is considerably in advance of the previous record and was not confined entirely to short hole shots, at least two of the aces being on 180 yard pokes.

One of the most interesting aces scored was in an exhibition at the Luite Des Moines club at Appleton when Walter Hagen, professional champion was paired with Billy Sixty, golf writer on the Milwaukee Journal. They were matched against Kenneth Dickenson, state amateur champion, and Frank Walsh, club professional.

The match had been close throughout, and Sixty settled the issue by finding the cup with his tee shot in the 120 yard seventeenth.

ARREST WILL FOLLOW JUST BEFORE TRIAL

Army's "Bear Cat" Formally Charged With Contempt and Insubordination

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—A copy of the court martial charges brought against Col. William Mitchell as a result of his criticism of higher officers in the air controversy was served on the Colonel Friday, but his technical arrest was deferred.

"Conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline," was charged against Col. Mitchell in the court martial specifications as result of his attack several weeks ago on the conduct of the army and navy air services.

The statement issued by Col. Mitchell at San Antonio after the crash of the Shenandoah, said the formal accusation, constitutes insubordination, and was "highly contemptuous and disrespectful" to the war department.

Technical arrest probably will not take place until just before the official goes on trial next week, although in the meantime he remains under orders not to leave Washington.

It was in this statement that the colonel declared the loss of the Shenandoah was due to criminal and almost treasonable conduct of the air service.

The specifications also relate to two later statements which are described as equally objectionable. The charges are brought in the name of Lieut. Col. Kyle Ruckner, chief of the military affairs section of the judge advocate general's office, and were served upon Mitchell by Col. Joseph R. McMullen, assistant judge advocate general. Representative Reid of Illinois, counsel for Mitchell declared the service of the papers carried with it technical arrest of the colonel, but war department officials disagreed.

They said the technical arrest probably would take place immediately before the officer is placed on trial before a general court-martial here next week.

EIGHT COUNTS

The specifications against Col. Mitchell are eight in number, all brought under the ninety-sixth article of war.

These specifications are as follows: 1. That Col. Mitchell in making the statement of Sept. 5 (after the wreck of the Shenandoah) "did conduct himself to the prejudice of good order and military discipline." 2. That Col. Mitchell on Sept. 5 "made a statement insubordinate to the administration of the war department."

3. That Col. Mitchell on Sept. 5 "made a statement highly contemptuous and disrespectful of the administration of the intent to discredit the same, to the prejudice of good order and military discipline."

4. Same as specification 3, except that it refers to the navy department instead of the war department.

5-S. Same as the first four but referring to the statements made by Col. Mitchell on Sept. 2.

On Sept. 2, also at San Antonio, Col. Mitchell elaborated on his statement of four days before and characterized the War and Navy department's administration of an air service as "disgraceful." After receiving service of the papers, Friday Col. Mitchell said he had no comment to make and that from now his case would be in the hands of his counsel.

ENGINEER HURT AS TRAIN IS DERAILED

Waterloo, Iowa—(AP)—Engineer Jim Liddell, of Des Moines, was slightly injured when derailed in the engine cab of the Chicago Great Western train No. 56 when it was derailed near Hudson, Iowa, eight miles south of here about 1:30 Friday morning. The eleven passengers in day coaches of the train and nine sleeping car passengers were shaken up as the cars left the track.

The first car listed to an angle of about 45 degrees but none of the cars turned over, and Liddell was the only one injured.

Fireman Thomas Hall, also of Des Moines, was thrown clear of the engine as it turned over. No cause for its derailment was officially given.

MYSTERY PLANE IS WRECKED

SPEED PLANE CRASHES IN TRIAL FLIGHT

Super-Marine Was Expected to Capture Prize at International Air Races

Bayshore Park, Baltimore, Md.—(AP)—Great Britain's "mystery plane," the super marine Napier S-4, crashed Friday morning during the navigability trials and is a total wreck. Captain Henry C. Bird, the pilot is suffering from immersion and shock but escaped injury.

Captain Bird had just taken off for the navigability and seaworthiness trials and was at an elevation of about 200 feet when a wing flutter apparently developed in both wings of the monoplane. Captain Bird attempted at once to land. As he struck the water, the super-marine nosed down and plummeted on her back, pressing the pilot under the surface.

PILOT SAFE

Captain Bird was wearing a life belt and managed to clear himself and reach the surface as the Napier S-4 sank. The crash occurred half a mile off shore from the hangars.

The supermarine's mishap will throw into the Schneider cup race Saturday both of Great Britain's Gloster Napier III's one of which had been held in reserve. Rori Henkler of Melbourne, Australia, the British reserve pilot, will take the second Gloster into the race Saturday. Bird intended to make no attempt to take part in the cup race after the shattering of his super-marine.

Salvage boats on the scene a few minutes after the crash succeeded in bringing to the surface the supermarine Napier-Lion engine. The rest of the plane appeared to be practically a total loss.

The foremost racing seaplanes of the United States, Great Britain and Italy were called upon Friday to prove their seaworthiness on the bosom of the Chesapeake as the final condition of their entry Saturday in the Jacques Schneider International seaplane trophy race.

MUST TAKE TEST

To guard against "freak" construction, M. Jacques Schneider French sportsman and aviator provided that all contesting planes should, the day immediately preceding each Schneider trophy race, prove the worth of their sea structure in grueling surface tests.

In the navigability and seaworthiness trials, the seaplane and the surface behavior of the craft are subjected to much greater stress and scrutiny than in the actual race.

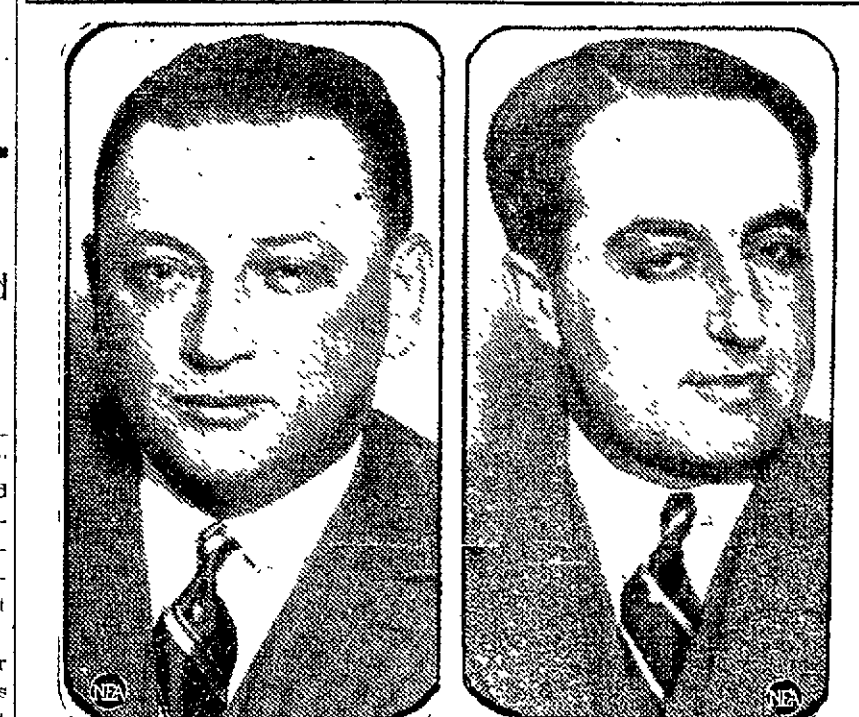

The planes are required to demonstrate their take-off and landing ability in a series of short spurts around a five kilometre course. This also is a test of the practical ability of the racing pilots.

Having proved the dependability of their undergear, the ships are required to demonstrate their seaworthiness with a fast speed on the surface of at least 12 knots per hour. They then remain anchored on the course, unoccupied and unattended for six hours.

Appleton Man Furnishes Latimer Murder Clew

BULLETIN
Kenosha—(AP)—Howard Pratt, Milwaukee, the first man to be questioned in connection with the murder of James Sears and Madeline Latimer here last Thursday was brought to Kenosha again on orders of coroner Joseph Friend and held for questioning Friday afternoon. He arrived from Milwaukee at 2 o'clock.

The action which brought Pratt back to Kenosha came with the discovery of additional information by Milwaukee and Kenosha officials which pointed out several flaws in the alibi which Pratt gave the officials when first arrested. Several points which did not jibe with the alibi presented by Miss Mabel Telezke, Pratt's Milwaukee sweetheart, on whose statement Pratt was released from custody last week, are under scrutiny Friday afternoon.

It was revealed Friday that two Milwaukee women made a statement that they saw a man pacing nervously in front of the boarding house where Madeline layed. A couple was seen parked across the street. The description of the man who aroused their suspicions tallied with that of Pratt. It was said Pratt has a couple.

Information by an Appleton man put the Milwaukee police on a new trail Thursday afternoon in their hunt for the slayer of Miss Madeline Latimer of this city, and her fiancé, James Sears of Kenosha, more than a week ago. The clew collapsed, however, when the man could not be found. Search now is being made for a tramp who is known to have been angered by Sears.

Edwin J. Luedtke of this city, an employee of Walter Implement & Auto Co., is the man who gave the Milwaukee police a clew which led to the search for a new suspect in Milwaukee. He visited Chief George P. Prim of the Appleton police department Thursday to tell him of a mysterious visitor.

The man had represented himself as a secret service operative, Luedtke said, and had made hints about killing somebody in Kenosha. He also had mentioned several robberies in Kenosha which he intimated he had been connected with.

TELLS MILWAUKEE POLICE

Chief Prim sent Luedtke to Milwaukee Thursday afternoon to talk with Capt. Harry McCarty, chief of the Milwaukee detective bureau. A conference was held with the captain and with Detectives Frensch, Lusk and Perry Tostler of Kenosha. An address at which the man had lived in Milwaukee was visited, only to disclose that he had moved nearly a year ago, leaving no forwarding address. A young vagabond who was befriended and later antagonized by Sears is sought by Kenosha authorities for questioning concerning his whereabouts during the hours Sears and his fiancée were slain.

The man sought is about 22. He went to Kenosha sometime ago from Iowa, where his parents live. He has an uncle in Kenosha. The youth drove a flivver coupe and made his way to Kenosha by preying on filling stations. It is said he stopped whenever he needed gas and had his tank filled and his motor oil replenished. Then he would tell the proprietor he had no money, and rather than make trouble over a matter of a dollar or so the victims invariably let him go without paying for the gas and oil.

JAMIE GIVES HIM GAS

After arriving at Kenosha this youth tried the same stunt at one of the garages operated by Sears and his partners. He got away with it because of Jamie's good nature. Then the young man began to hang around the garage. Jamie gave him gas and oil at other times and sometimes gave him money to buy meals.

ROB FIFTY IN DUNDEE POOL ROOM FRIDAY

East Newark, N. J.—(AP)—Four men, Friday held up 50 patrons of a pool room operated by Johnny Dundee and Phil Krug, boxers and escaped with $4,500 in money. Five thousand dollars hidden behind a radiator was overlooked.

Three men with drawn guns went through the crowd while the fourth stood guard at the door.

BELOIT AWARDED CUP DONATED BY DAN STEINBERG

Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers Reelects Ludwig President

Green Bay—(AP)—Otto N. Ludwig, Milwaukee, was reelected president of the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers at the closing session of the annual convention here late Thursday.

Other officers elected were: P. E. Dolan, Green Bay; vice president; Arthur Ehrlich, Racine, secretary-treasurer; Perry O. Powell, Racine, executive secretary. New directors elected were D. K. Zimmerman, Waukesha, Arthur Ehrlich, Racine; J. R. Shuster, Beloit; A. T. Uehling, Madison. R. H. Markham, Manitowish; Charles Turnock, Kenosha; L. E. Goide, Eau Claire; Adolph Holub, Wausau, and T. J. Jax, Johnson Creek.

The Racine board was awarded the five minute booster talk contest trophy for the third successive time thus gaining permanent possession of the cup. Beloit won permanent possession of the D. J. Steinberg (Appleton) achievement cup and also was awarded the Ludwig publicity trophy, while the Webster attendance cup went to Kenosha permanently, this being the third win.

Addresses were given by J. Bradford Pengelly, president of the Phint, Mich., real estate board and E. M. Fisher, Chicago, director of education and research, National Association of Real Estate Brokers.

CAT EYE LIL FOUND IN DESERTED ATTIC

Buffalo, N. Y.—(AP)—"Cat Eye Lil" was recaptured Friday. She was found in the attic of a partially constructed house in Kenmore just outside the city limits by a workman. The woman, known through the country as a notorious confidence woman escaped Thursday from Erie co. jail here.

With her ankle swollen to three times its natural size as a result of a sprain received when she leaped out of a window in the sheriff's office she fell an easy prey to Kenmore police who were notified by the workman who found her. She was returned to the jail from which she made her dramatic escape twenty-four hours earlier.

Under the name of Julia Archer, she was to have been sentenced Friday for the theft of jewels worth $75,000 from a Buffalo home where she was employed as a maid. She was arrested in Milwaukee recently where she was using the name of Lillian McDowell.

BRIAND CALLS FOR PROBE OF BULGAR PLEA

Council Will Meet Monday in Paris to Investigate Cause of Quarrel

REPORT MORE CASUALTIES

Greeks Take Petrich and Advance on 15-Kilometre Front on River Struma

Paris—(AP)—The machinery of the League of Nations was set in motion Friday in an effort to prevent another Balkan war.

M. Briand, as the presiding officer, has summoned the league council to meet here next Monday and investigate the cause of the dispute which suddenly flared up between Greece and Bulgaria early this week.

The fighting started on Monday in the frontier region of Demirhisar, but the mass of official and semi-official claims and counterclaims which have emanated since from Sofia and Athens have failed to establish which side was responsible.

The fact remains that hostile forces are facing each other in the valley of the Struma river which flows southward across the international boundary and into the Aegean sea, the villages and towns have been bombarded and that blood has been spilled.

TOWNS MENACED

Advices from trustworthy sources indicate that the town of Petrich, in Bulgarian territory, has been occupied and that a number of other towns in the Struma valley have been at least menaced by Greek troops. A Greek official communiqué admits the entry of the Greek troops into Bulgarian territory but says the move was of "strategic necessity" to prevent further incursions of Bulgarians on Greek soil. From Sofia comes the word that the Greeks are advancing on a 15-kilometre front on both banks of the Struma and that in addition to the use of artillery, airplanes have bombed the bridges, barracks, roads and stations.

Advices reaching Vienna declare Petrich, a Bulgarian village crowded with Macedonian refugees has finally been abandoned in flames and that other towns, including Marassotino, Vro and Maronople are under bombardment.

The capitals of the neighboring countries display gravest concern over the outcome. A cabinet meeting was called in Belgrade, the Jugoslavian capital, and at its conclusion was declared as most delicate and calculated to cause "a terrible conflagration," if the Greeks advanced.

WARNS POWERS

Geneva, Switzerland—(AP)—In addition to convocation of the league council next Monday at Paris to deal with the Greco-Bulgarian crisis, M. Briand, as president of the council, has dispatched notes to both the Athens and Sofia governments reminding them of their obligation under the league covenant to settle disputes amicably. Bulgaria's appeal to Article X and XI of the league covenant, Article X binds the members of the league to preserve the territorial integrity and political independence of all the members against external aggression.

Article XI says that "any war or threat of war whether immediately affecting any of the members of the league or not, is hereby declared a matter of concern to the whole."

BOYS MEET TO HEAR OUTLINE OF YEAR'S WORK

Program of Fun and Business
Prepared for "Kick-off" of Boys Department

A varied program of fun, business and entertainment will be provided for members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. at the annual membership "kick-off" Friday evening in the gymnasium. The department concluded its membership campaign two weeks ago with 269 members and the affair Friday night is preliminary to the start of the activities year.

John Puch, boys' work secretary of the association, will act as chairman, and will talk on the department program for the year. A. P. Jensen, physical director, will explain the department physical program for year and W. E. Smith, chairman of the boys' work committee, will erect the old and new members. A short business meeting will be held and candidates for mayor of the division will be nominated. The mayoralty election will take place Thursday and Friday of next week. Each club and gymnasium class will elect two representatives to the boys division council, and the editor and circulation manager of the "Y's" Dope also will be chosen. The Dope is the department newspaper to be tried for the first time this year. Each club and gym class also will elect its news director for the year.

The entertainment part of the program will include an "ice cream social," community singing, a group of readings by Miss Babette Marshall and a comic play by members of the Hi-Y club.

THESE SINGERS FURNISH MELODY AT ELK COMEDY

People who attend "The Jollies of 1925" Monday and Tuesday evenings at Fischers Appleton theatre will hear exceptionally fine song numbers, for the three ballad singers in the cast are Lester Ballet, Martin Van Rooy and Robert DeLand, all of whom have had years of experience in amateur theatricals. Mr. Ballet will be in the middle of the chorus groups, while Mr. Van Rooy and Mr. DeLand will be the end men. Their songs are chosen from popular music, but they are the kind of popular airs which are rich in melody, and appealing to young and old people alike. Mr. Ballet will sing "Waiting for the Moon" as his feature number of the program. He has a very pleasing tenor voice and has appeared in numerous home talent plays. Mr. Van Rooy will sing "Oh How I Miss You Tonight," one of the most popular song hits at the present time. Although this song has had a run of several months it is still enjoying as much popularity as when it first appeared. Mr. DeLand will sing "Pal of my Cradle Days" as his feature solo.

tune favored the occupants of the coaches, however, for the cars remained upright on the right-of-way. The cars went to the left of the tracks but if they had gone the other direction, they would have rolled down a steep embankment. The passengers were taken aboard another train about an hour and a half later and conveyed to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grootmont, Mrs. A. F. Sauter and Miss Margaret Grootmont left Friday morning for Chicago. They will spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Willen. Mrs. Willen is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grootmont.

DEATHS

FIEDLER NOT TO BLAME FOR CLASH OF AUTOMOBILES

Chicago People Lose Suit for Damages Against Seymour Postmaster

George Fiedler, Seymour, was exonerated of all blame for the collision between his automobile and a Chicago car, which resulted in the injury of David Saper and Mrs. Ida Goodman of Chicago, when a jury, after deliberating two hours Wednesday evening brought in a special verdict in favor of Fiedler and ended the damage suits started Monday in municipal court by Saper and Mrs. Goodman. Saper was suing Fiedler for $5,000 and Mrs. Goodman sought $2,500. The accident occurred on July 30, 1923 at the intersection of state trunk highway 47, and county trunk highway 47.

The testimony disclosed that the Chicago car was traveling rapidly north along highway 47, and that Fiedler, going west on county trunk 1, was not going at an excessive rate of speed, and that he was using ordinary care and diligence. It was held that David Goodman, driving the Chicago car did not show ordinary caution by slowing down for the intersection.

The plaintiffs charged Fiedler with cutting the corner when he started to turn onto highway 47, but the jury was convinced by the testimony of the plaintiff that he did not cut across, but turned squarely.

Fiedler further established that he was on the right side of the road both before and after turning the corner, and that he had the right of way.

Taking of testimony was started Monday noon and was continued until 9 o'clock Wednesday evening.

HELBLE SHOWS H. S. STUDENTS HOW TO STUDY

Elements of proper studying were emphasized to students of Appleton high school Thursday morning when Principal H. H. Helble conducted a "special class" of 20 minutes before the entire student body in the assembly room. Mr. Helble explained correct study and attempted to help the students get the "study habit" early in the year. The "lesson" came as the result of conferences with 60 students who had failed in subjects during the first quarter. Mr. Helble analyzed their troubles as told to him by the students and made up a composite of the main reasons which were holding them back.

The points emphasized were making out a definite program, having all needed material on hand, understanding of the assignment, proper use of all parts of the text book concentration, understanding the work and discussing of the work before starting on it, individual study, bringing studies into practical applications taking an interest in the work and discussing it with parents, teachers, and principals, preparing each lesson daily, reviewing uncertain work and training the memory.

in the barn or the warehouse. All the grocers know for certain is that potatoes are scarce.

The cabbage crop in Outagamie co. is reported to be very good this fall. Farmers are getting about $3 a ton from dealers.

POTATOES SCARCE AND HIGH IN PRICE THIS FALL

Potatoes in Appleton grocery stores are being sold for almost three times the price at which they were retailed at this time last year. The present price of "spuds" is $1.25 a bushel, while last year in October the price was 50 cents. It is hard to give any one particular reason why potatoes come so high in 1925 according to local grocers. The potato crop is probably not as good as last year they say, but most of the dealers do not think there is such a difference between this year and last years yield as to cause a price difference of 75 cents per bushel. Some think the potato growers are "holding out on them," and are storing their spuds

A NEW ATTITUDE TOWARD TAXES
Indications are that the administration's tax revision at the next session of congress will not be so specifically "Mellon" as on previous occasions. The secretary of treasury has gone out of his way to emphasize the statement that he does not propose definite rates. This may or may not be to remove what prejudice has existed in the past toward Mr. Mellon's ideas on taxation, but it would at least seem to disassociate his name from the new bill and to make it an administration measure pure and simple, without identifying it with any particular member.

What the treasury department is doing in preparation for tax revision is to compile certain facts and figures relating to the revenues of the country and to the possibilities of tax reduction based on well recognized fiscal and economic principles. Mr. Mellon has not receded from his original contention that the maximum surtax should be reduced; in fact, he favors an even lower maximum. He now argues that tax reform can go to a 25 percent maximum normal for surtax "without the slightest danger to future revenues." Broadly applied, his plan would relieve large individual incomes of much of the excessive taxes they are now paying, in some instances as much as half.

The secretary proceeds on the theory that nothing is gained economically for the country by a tax policy which drives capital into non-taxable securities and into investments which are not productive. We think it is an altogether sound conclusion and that it was as sound two and three years ago as it is today. That this impression is gaining ground throughout the country is indicated by the apparent change which is taking place in the attitude of congress itself. There is no doubt that there will be less hostility to the administration's tax program than there was at the last two revisions.

Mr. Mellon is also opposed to large exemptions. He believes, and rightly so, that the principle of taxation in proportion to ability to pay should be inclusive broadly of all incomes and all persons. In other words, he would go to the bottom of the ladder as well as to the top. He maintains that every person should contribute something toward the cost of government, even though small, starting of course at a figure where a tax may be levied without injustice or oppression.

The class doctrine of taxation of wealth in the restricted meaning of that term has been carried to undue extremes in later years. The result is that a large proportion of the people pay little or no taxes directly, yet it is their votes and their influence which control the levying and spending of public revenues. Naturally they have less interest in economy and efficiency in government where their immediate pecuniary interest is slight or nil. If the politicians were spending their money instead of the other fellow's money, there would be more concern about where the money went and how it was spent. They would also be more concerned about the amount raised for public expenditures.

In the end, whatever tax revision is gone through with will be the product of politics. The politicians have a minor interest in the fiscal and economic good of the country based on the application of sound business methods. They have a major interest at all times in votes. They will enact whatever legislation seems to them productive of the greatest number of votes and the largest measure of popularity in their home states and home districts.

However, it is not too much to prophesy that public opinion in the United States has reached a point where it is willing to listen to the recommendations of financial experts and economists quite as much as to the vagaries and prejudices of lawmakers. If that is the case their influence may be felt in congress and we shall have scientific tax revision out of which the country will derive real benefit and improved prosperity.

BORAH IGNORES FACTS
Senator Borah, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, seems determined to essay the role of his predecessor to the bitter end. Not only is he hostile to the administration's foreign policy in its defined channels and tendencies, but he is opposed to the enlightened intelligence of America toward this important phase of government. Mr. Borah is leading an aggressive attack, constantly increasing in intensity, on the president's recommendation for participation in the world court. He is trying to make his audiences believe that the court is a department of the League of Nations. In this attitude he ignores all of the facts of the case, and is chargeable with the grossest misrepresentation. He says the issue is whether we shall have an independent judicial tribunal, free from international politics—a court that is separated from and uncontrolled by the League. Statesmen who have regard for the truth would not stoop to such dissimulation.

Mr. Coolidge became vice-president and then president, with convictions opposed to the League of Nations as organized. He has not changed in this attitude, except to reveal his approval of an organization of a character similar to that of the League. So far as taking America into the League as it now exists is concerned, he will not give his consent. But Mr. Coolidge is president of the United States and takes a view of his official responsibilities that recognizes facts as such, together with our just international obligations. He has a clear knowledge and understanding of the world court. He has a better knowledge of it than Mr. Borah or those who will not see it in its true light. He knows its character, its composition, its operations. He knows that in all of these essentials it is an independent court, of the highest order, and that the talk about its domination by and connection with the League of Nations is propaganda. That is why he is for American adherence and why he cannot be swerved from his purpose.

The Locarno treaty ought to relieve American minds of the bug-a-boo about "international politics," and the dangers of American participation in world affairs. It reveals a purpose on the part of European peoples to establish peace at any cost, consulting the major interests of Europe above their selfish interests and momentary sacrifices. We have boasted much about the Washington arms conference and the Dawes settlement of reparations, but the Locarno conference, if it proves to be what all signs now forecast, is the greatest single contribution toward the peace of Europe made since the war. And it is an agreement made without the assistance of the United States, but solely by nations which a few years ago were engaged in a life and death struggle and which have been accused ever since of a malicious purpose to renew these hostilities at the first opportunity. In the face of this spirit of accommodation and good will it would not well comport the United States to withhold its cooperation in making the world court a great tribunal of international justice. We cannot afford as a nation to adopt the Borah policy of isolation and ostracism of Europe in its valid and faithful efforts to reestablish peace on an enduring basis.

BLUE MONDAY
It's a sort of a feeling of laziness that makes every Monday seem blue. You slip in the habit of laziness on Sunday, with nothing to do. The start of leaf time takes you and leads all your way away. It gets in the blood and it makes every Monday seem further away.
"Is queer how it's hard to get started and build on the start that's right. On Monday you pick up, but it's hard, where you left off on Saturday night. The trip through the morning is rougher and harder for a work-a-day use. The task you must tackle is tougher till you've shaken all loafing thoughts loose."
You're back at your work, after dinner and things seem to get on your way. You're foolish you find, to be whining, so you plug till the end of the day. When Tuesday arrives you are buried with work that on Monday went sunk. And thus, the task that is carried proves that Blue Monday's really the bunk.

THE ALL YEAR PARKING PROBLEM
Let me see, no not I remember some scandalous talk here two or three years ago about certain adventurous young women who established a fad or fashion of parking corsets for a dance? Or was that before the war?
The world must be wiser. The flapper phenomenon has forced this issue. The latest fashion dictum is all year parking. Thirty models in a fall fashion revue wore no corsets; two—both stylish stunts—gladdened the hearts of the corset people by strutting their stuff accoutered in the best Elizabethan manner. One deduced from this fashion show that the corset propaganda is proving a washout.
Speaking from hygienic viewpoint, I applaud and acclaim the all year parking fashion as a great step forward in the building of better and more beautiful women; better, I mean physically, and for that reason more beautiful; healthier; easier to look at; more vigorous and more capable of taking care of themselves; endowed with finer figures; less expensive to dress; better qualified for motherhood. The corset opposes each and all of these desirable features. The corset may be all right, perhaps indispensable, for certain invalids, and in such cases it should be left to the advice of the attending physician. Normal, regular, healthy women need a corset no more than I need a valet. I can shave and dress or even bathe myself, after a fashion, well enough to get away with it. A regular woman can hold herself up without artificial aid.

The hypothesis that a female is delicate or weak or something like that, and therefore must have the support of some kind of abdominal splint in order to keep her figure graceful and so on and so forth, is one industrially fostered by people who have abdominal splints to dispose of, and not by physicians or physical educators who have nothing but health advice to offer.
Wearing any kind of supporter is an indulgence or a compromise which may easily become a fixed habit, like chewing tobacco. When the habit has become fixed on the victim, the victim is prone to see that it is more or less necessary for comfort or health. That is why some men chew tobacco habitually and some women wear corsets every day.
Outside of the female nostrum literature, which is still as voluminous as hoop skirts, there is really no ground for the morbid notion that a young woman is in any sense weaker than a young man today. Inch for inch and pound for pound the reasonably well educated girl today can and does hold her own with the, romantically speaking, stronger sex. She's as hard as nails and yet as sweet and womanly as ever. She laughs at the old female weakness hokum and she lives a darn sight more wholesome and normal life than her prototype did. In fact she is rapidly getting out from under the bunk that almost finished her mother.

Flapperism has contributed one big blessing to the general health and well being of the sex; it flapperism is responsible for all the year parking of supporters for weak women.
Every girl comes completely equipped with the most perfectly fitting, elastic, efficient corset conceivable, in the form of well arranged layers, bands or girdles of muscle, and this natural support will keep her figure slender and flexible if she is given a fair physical education.

Answer—The hair and the nails are structural modifications of the epidermis.

First Aid for Frostbite
I notice that you advocate warm applications instead of ice or snow as first aid for frost bit of the ear or cheek. Here in northern Michigan we have always been told to use snow or slush or to rub the blanched spot. Will you say whether your opinion is based on theory or on experience? (S. G. A.)
Answer—You misunderstood. I advised moderate kneading of the blanched spot, using any simple lubrication to prevent friction and injury to the skin. Snow or ice is neither necessary nor more effective than tepid water or plain talcum or other lubricant. Experience, chiefly, I base this assertion on.

War sentiment in England was stirred to the point of rage and horror at the execution by the execution by the Germans of the English nurse, Edith Cavell. The report was published in detail in London by Brand Whitlock, American minister in Belgium.
The Y. M. C. A. lacked only 87 members to reach the 1,000-mark in its campaign. It was expected that the goal would be reached by the time a meeting was held that evening in the new building.
Richard Powless of Oneida, was appointed county surveyor in place of the late C. H. Gillett. Mr. Powless was a full blooded Oneida Indian who was educated at Hampton school.
A horse belonging to Louis Hintz, Grand Chute, was killed Wednesday night when it was struck by an automobile driven by Frank Bartz.
John Tracy, chairman of the county board, made a public statement in which he objected to plans of the state to use convict labor on the public highways.
Mrs. L. F. Kutler died this morning at her home at the corner of Washington and Drew-st after an illness with pneumonia. She was survived by her widower and a daughter, Miss Kathleen Kutler.

My Trolley Girl is what I called her.
The pretty "maid whose step would falter
As she tripped along the aisle;
And when my reaching spirit called her,
Sank beside me with a smile,
Ah, so sweet!
She sat uprightly, very quiet,
I nearly whispered, thought I'd try it,
But hesitated every day,
I set myself, and would live by it,
But she was looking far away,
Oh, rather sweet.

But next day, riding on the trolley,
With mind and heart on utter folly,
Across the aisle a jolly sat,
And she paused by him, smiling gaily,
And then sat down. Well, that was that!
So darn sweet!

The Bulgarians and Greeks are having their annual spasm. Bulgars said they shot Greek truce bearers by mistake. We are glad no such misunderstandings don't exist in Appleton.

A Chicago man who saw the Michigan-Wisconsin game last Saturday writes in to Roundy of the Madison Journal what he overheard at the game on Friedman who made the Budgetites wish he was in Halifax. "That Friedman surely gets that forward pass away fast," said one. "Well what do you expect?" retorted the other. "You don't suppose a Hebrew would hang on very long to a pigskin?"

Tat may be one reason why Jake Zussmann shot those pretty passes at the "Oo zime." But the trouble on that last one was that he shot it to Lamb. Do you expect Lamb to substitute pigskin for sheepskin at the graduation exercises?

Q. Will a person hanging from a current-bearing wire receive a shock if he is free from contact? P. F.
A. The Bureau of Standards says that a person hanging from a current-bearing wire will not receive a shock unless the distance from his feet to the ground is so small and the voltage so high that the current can jump across the gap.
Q. How much money is there in the postal savings banks?
A. The Post Office Department says that on August 31, 1925 the accounts in the postal savings banks amounted to $132,099,867.
Q. What is meant by "if worst comes to worst?" M. C. K.
A. "If worse comes to worst" is often incorrectly rendered "if worst comes to worst." The correct version is evidently a continuation of "from bad to worse" and suggests a situation when the worst imaginable condition has taken the place of a condition in some degree bearable.
Q. Who is financing the "American Home" which is being sent to Paris for exhibition? A. S.
A. It is the result of a cooperative enterprise of more than thirty manufacturers and trade associations. This home is a two-story single house of ten rooms and four baths, furnished in reproductions of fine old colonial pieces. It contains, however, all modern labor-saving comfort-providing devices. France is many steps behind the United States in such equipment.
Q. How much crude rubber does it take to make a fabric automobile tire? S. S.
A. The Bureau of Standards says that there are practically five pounds of crude rubber in a 30x3 1/2 fabric tire.
Q. What city of Norway had its name changed to Oslo and why was it done? W. N.
A. The capital of Norway, Christiania, was changed to Oslo. The city was founded by King Harold III, 900 years ago, and named Oslo. Six hundred years later the city was destroyed and a new one founded by King Christian which was then called Christiania. The decision to resume the ancient name was made by the Storting, the Norwegian Parliament.

THE PREFACES OF BERNARD SHAW
For years I have been reading the plays of George Bernard Shaw for the sake of their prefaces rather than for the sake of the plays themselves. This is not saying that some of the dramas are not great plays, but to me the prefaces are invariably more amusing than the plays for the sake of which they were ostensibly written.
I say ostensibly because it is an even bet that in some cases at least Shaw wrote the plays in order to have an excuse for the prefaces rather than the other way round. Shaw's prefaces, as everybody knows who is familiar with the witty Irishman, are not perfunctory appendices to works of art, dashed off while the printer's devil is standing in the hall way in hand waiting for the copy. They are meant to be carefully constructed works of art in themselves. They give the effect of having been written for their own sake. I have at times read Shaw prefaces without reading the plays they were supposed to introduce and the experiment is entirely satisfactory.
Take the most recent example, the preface to "Saint Joan." This is on the life of Joan of Arc was produced for the first time late in 1924 in New York and early in 1924, London. It appeared in book form in June, 1924, and both on the stage and in book form it has enjoyed popularity such as might be expected for any play written by a man Shaw's vogue. In February, 1925, a book had gone through four editions.
It is never safe or fair to pass judgment on a play after merely reading it. A play is a very different kind of work of art than a novel. It is constructed for the theatre and should be seen in the theatre before one presumes to condemn it. But I have only had the opportunity to read "Saint Joan" all I can say how the reading affected me. I play in the reading seemed so good that it was hard to finish it. It did not seem to me to be a play at all, but an essay in play form. It did not seem to me that a single one of the characters came alive at a single point in the play. They talk, to talk, and then talk some more, and they never do anything. It is on an intellectual and not an emotional plane.
But the preface is quite another thing. That too is consistently on intellectual and not on an emotional plane. But that is exactly what is expected in a preface. In it Shaw plains what he intended to do in play. I don't think he has done but the writer's explanation of his intentions is interesting.
He wanted to place Joan of Arc in her natural setting of the mid ages. We wanted to show that we understand Joan of Arc we must get our modern ideas. It was a literally a feudal world in which Joan of Arc lived and ecclesiastical it was a Catholic world. Such a thing as nationalism, which is almost a political religion today, was unknown and the meaning of Joan of Arc, politically speaking lies in the fact that she was fundamentally a national fighting for France as a nation, for a group of feudal lords who occupied the territory now called France.
CHURCH INVOLVED
Her meaning, ecclesiastically speaking, lies in the fact that though good Catholic, she did not recognize the authority of the church but insisted on establishing direct communication between herself and God without using the church as an instrument. According to Shaw, it was this church resentment, while the feudal lords resented the fact that she was a nationalist, what we today would call a "patriot." And so the two forces combined to crush her.
Whether that is the correct view or not, it is much more interesting than the sentimental view of Joan that has been current for centuries. At Shaw shows that Joan's persecutors were not corrupt villains as they are usually pictured. They were earnest men who honestly regarded Joan as a menace to society. They were thought in terms of the middle ages. All this is promised in the preface but for me at least the play did not carry out the promise. The preface seems to me a greater work of art than the play.

Girls Work On Program For Season

Preliminary plans for the new year of Appleton Womans club were started at the initial meeting of the club sports council Thursday evening. A nominating committee consisting of the Misses Catherine Beelan, Marian Verbrick and Maria Striddle was appointed to prepare a slate of candidates for council offices and present them at the next meeting when the election will take place. It was decided to hold their meetings on the first Wednesday of each month this year. The next regular meeting will be held on Nov. 4.

A discussion on repairs at the club cottage at Lake Winnebago was held and it was decided to refer the matter to the financial committee. Estimates on the work are being called for this week. Plans for a series of informal parties and dances during the year were made and it was decided to have a Thanksgiving masked ball for girls at the playhouse in November. The first dance of the series will be held at the playhouse Friday evening.

Three committees, financial, membership and social, were made standing committees for the year. Lunch was served by the Eta Beta Pi supper club and plans were made to have some group serve a lunch at each meeting of the council this year.

YOUNG GIRLS FORM "PACK"

The first "Brownie Pack" ever to be established in the city of Appleton was started at a meeting of a group of girls of the Lincoln school Thursday at the Womans club rooms. The Brownie pack is a junior auxiliary of the girl scouts and is well established in many cities of the country. It includes girls between the ages of 8 and 11.

Miss Josephine Bradford was chosen "Brown Owl" or leader of the pack. Miss Helen Beach will assist her with the group.

PARTIES

Mrs. A. L. Gmeiner, 103 N. Durkeest, entertained 12 friends at a Halloween party Thursday night. Prizes at bridge were won by the Misses Leona Vogel and Martha Leuchel and by Mrs. Andrew Weisgerber.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Schultz, 1126 W. Packard-st., entertained 10 friends at a Halloween dinner Thursday evening. The guests were entertained at a theatre party after the dinner.

Mrs. William Konrad, 502 N. Durkeest, entertained about 30 friends at a party Thursday in honor of her birthday anniversary. Prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. S. A. Konz and Mrs. Matt Schmidt and at bridge by Mrs. Charles Holz.

The Aid society of Montefiore congregation is to give a benefit dance for the Zionists Sunday evening at the roof gardens of Hotel Appleton. Mrs. J. Shapiro is chairman of arrangements.

The young people of St. Matthew church are making preparations for a Halloween party to be given Tuesday evening in the basement of the church. A program of Halloween stunts and games is being arranged. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Miss Toepel, chairman, Herman Jahnke and Eugene Krueger.

Lenore Schwartz entertained seven guests at a bridge party Thursday evening at her home, 420 W. Sixth-st. First prize was won by Beatrice Tischler, and the consolation prize went to Loretta Schultz. The guests included Frank Glaser, Mrs. R. F. Dunger, Beatrice Tischler, Hilda Boeldt, Loretta Schultz, Estelle Murray, and Thelma Campshure.

CLUB MEETINGS

The Sunshine club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anna Krause, 1230 S. Pierce-ave. Mrs. Anna Schueller, Mrs. Doretta Lohrenz and Mrs. Louisa Roehl were assistant hostesses.

SHAMROCK GIRL SCOUTS HIKE TO PARTY AT LAKE

Shamrock troop of girl scouts of St. Mary church hiked to Happy Hut, the womans club cottage at Lake Winnebago Wednesday afternoon where they were entertained at a Halloween party. Margaret Murphy's patrol was in charge of the decorations and entertainment, and members of the group went out to the cottage by car before the main group arrived to prepare the party. Dorothy Calnin's patrol had charge of the stunts on the hike and Helen Gilman's group acted as the "eats" committee.

The girls were entertained by stunts and games and then participated in a viceroy roast. Mary Gloudeman's patrol acted as the "cleanup" committee.

CHILDREN AND MOTHERS GUESTS AT CHURCH PARTY

Members of the cradle roll class of the Emmanuel Evangelical church and their mothers were entertained at a party Tuesday afternoon at the church. A program was presented after which games furnished entertainment for the children. Lorent Bernhardt gave the greetings and Marguerite Greb presented a song, "Hush-a-Bye Baby." A short talk was given by the pastor, the Rev. H. A. Bernhardt. Ella Haertel presented a recitation, "That's Baby's" and a song was given by Viola Ashman and Alice Koss.

COUNTY WOMEN STUDY CLOTHES AT MEETINGS

The next meeting of Miss Gladys Meloché of the Home Economics department at Madison, with the four groups of the county, department of Appleton Womans club, of which Mrs. Edward Cummings is chairman, will be held during the week of Nov. 2 to 7. Miss Meloché will be with the Black Creek group on Tuesday, Nov. 3; Shuonon, Nov. 4; Hortonville, Nov. 5 and Mackville, Nov. 6.

The subject will be Clothing, centering on How to Buy Materials, will be discussed at the meeting. Such questions as: Why do some silks crack and split? Why do some cotton materials shrink more than others? Why do some turkish towels absorb more moisture than others? will be considered.

Some of the groups are planning to hold all-day sessions with Miss Meloché and are making plans for special programs. Much interest is being shown by various groups and preparations are being made to accommodate large numbers at the meetings.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Busse, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rineman and Miss Verona Luethke of Reedville attended the organ recital at the Methodist church Thursday night.

Half the world is half asleep. Can success in life be undermined by constipation? Indeed it can. The poisons of this disease tie you out, wear you down, make you listless and make you lose interest in things in general. Ambition is most often prompted by a thoroughly healthy body. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings permanent relief from constipation.

"Shoulders that droop and feet that drag"

THERE are men and women who seem to be eternally tired. They go about things in a listless sort of way. They try, but they can't seem to make the grade. Perhaps they do not realize that it is constipation which is sapping their energy.

There is a sure relief from this disease. It is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN goes completely through the system without changing its fiber. It sweeps the intestine clean, purifies it, absorbs and carries moisture through it, urges it to act exactly as nature intended. Unlike habit-forming pills and drugs, it is never necessary to increase the amount of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN which you first find effective.

Let Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regain your health and keep you feeling fit. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or your grocer returns the purchase price. Eat your two tablespoonfuls with milk or cream, sprinkle it over other cereals, cook it with hot cereals, put it in soups and try it in the recipes given on every package.

Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—for only ALL-BRAN brings sure results. All grocers sell it. Leading hotels and restaurants serve it.

The original ALL-BRAN—ready-to-eat

Women Aid In Work At New London

Mrs. E. E. Dunn, president of the local American Legion Auxiliary presided at the installation of officers of the New London branch of the auxiliary Thursday night. Other members of the local auxiliary who attended the ceremony were Mrs. Gus Tave Keller, Sr., Mrs. D. J. Boyle, Mrs. W. C. Fish, Mrs. E. Louis Ellis, Mrs. Tock and Mrs. G. M. Holzer.

Five members of the legion from Appleton and representatives from legions at Hortonville and Seymour also were present. A musical program and social followed the business session.

DE MOLAY BOYS CONFER DEGREE ON CANDIDATES

The initiatory degree was conferred on four candidates at the meeting of John F. Rose chapter, Order of De Molay Thursday night. Those who received the degree were Kenneth Laird, Russell Denyes, Wilmer Schlaefer, Jr., and Carlton Steiner.

Further arrangements for the dancing party to be given Nov. 6 or 7 are being made by the committee which consists of John Catlin, Ward Wheeler, Robert Shepherd, Arthur Smith, Abe Belzer and Henry Heller. Guests from Oshkosh, Kaukauna, Neenah, and Manitowoc are expected.

CARD PARTIES

Twelve tables were in play at the last of the series of card parties to be given by St. Joseph Ladies Aid society Thursday afternoon in St. Joseph hall. Prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. R. Lehrer, Mrs. William Steinacker, plumpack, Mrs. A. Zickler, Mrs. A. Schultz. The grand prize in schafkopf was awarded to Mrs. Joseph LaFond, and in plumpack to Mrs. John Stier. The society will begin another series of parties on Oct. 23. An apron sale will be given in connection with the card party.

Mrs. John DeWendt and Mrs. Floyd Gibbs of Menasha won prizes at schafkopf at the card party given Thursday afternoon by the Christian Mothers society of Sacred Heart church. Seven tables were in play.

LODGE NEWS

Rank of esquire which was to have been conferred at the meeting of Knights of Pythias Thursday night, was postponed until Oct. 23. All members who volunteered to receive the pews in the new Methodist church, preparatory of laying floors in the hall, have been requested to be at the church at 7.30 Friday night.

HONOR REFORMATION WITH SPECIAL SERVICE

St. Matthew church is to hold special services Sunday in connection with the reformation festival which falls on Oct. 31. The festival commemorates the nailing of ninety-five theses on Castle church at Wittenberg Germany by Martin Luther.

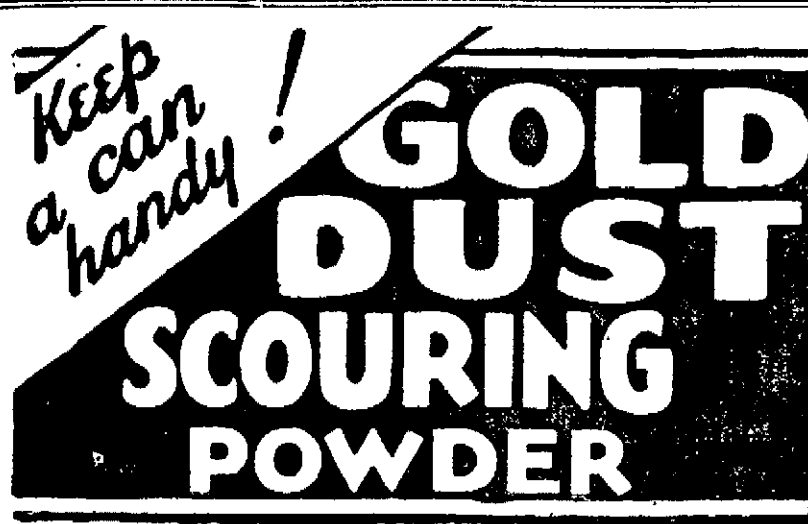

German services will be held at 9 o'clock Sunday morning and English services will be at 10 o'clock. The sermon will be on the life of Dr. Luther with special reference to the four hundredth anniversary of Evangelical church services.

RAINBOW VETERANS MEET TO DISCUSS DANCE PLAN

Plans for an Armistice Day dance, Nov. 1 will be discussed by Appleton Rainbow veterans at their monthly meeting at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the armory. The Rainbow men never have sponsored an Armistice day dance, but there is considerable sentiment in favor of a party this year.

The annual banquet for Rainbow veterans and their wives will be held in November, and the date probably will be set at the meeting.

NEW PRESIDENT TO BE INSTALLED LATE NEXT MONTH

Formal Inauguration of President Wriston Will Take Place on Nov. 24

Dr. Henry M. Wriston will be inaugurated as president of Lawrence college on Tuesday, Nov. 24. Dr. M. Alexander, president of the board of trustees of the college is chairman in charge of the inauguration. He has appointed a committee which will take charge of the plans, consisting of Dean Wilson S. Naylor, chairman, representing the college, Judson G. Roselush, representing the trustees, and Anders L. Anderson, representing the alumni.

The committee is preparing invitations which will be sent out this weekend to the presidents of all colleges, normal schools, and universities in Wisconsin and adjoining states, and also to the presidents of every Methodist Episcopal educational institution of the country.

The program will be given at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning with the installation conducted by L. M. Alexander. This will be followed by the inaugural address by the new president and salutatory addresses by distinguished guests. At noon there will be a reception at the president's home by Dr. and Mrs. Wriston.

The ceremonies will all be marked by "academic color" and the academic procession, composed of faculty, trustees and distinguished visitors will be a feature.

Rev. Henry Lincoln Wriston of Boston, Mass., father of President Wriston, will be present at his son's inaugural. It is interesting to note that the Rev. Mr. Wriston was a classmate of Dr. Wilson S. Naylor at Boston University. He was a member of the clergy for a number of years, but is now engaged in the insurance business in Boston.

A large honorary installation committee will be announced later.

MAKE PLANS FOR CHURCH SCHOOLS

Problem of Financing Religious Education Studied at Conference Here

The Wisconsin conference program of religious education for 1925 and 1926 was discussed at a meeting of the conference board recently at the Y. M. C. A. The board took up the question of financing the program for the coming year. The conference program is based on three conditions: the needs of young people and adults, their capacity for growth and leadership and the equipment possessed to meet the conditions.

Among courses included in the program is Education Evangelism, which gives the Christian view of life dynamic emphasis through special addresses, sermons, personal work, institutes, summer schools, study classes and Biblical and educational contests. Other courses are: Leadership training, intensive work in the local church, Bible contests, Bible story studies, educational contests, week-day religious education, vacation church schools and Rural Churches.

Leadership training is taught at Camp Cleghorn summer school and standard training schools. The training schools will be held Oct. 12 to 16 at Wisconsin Rapids; Oct. 19 to 23 at Whitewater; Nov. 9 to 13 at Kenosha and Nov. 30 to Dec. 4 at Appleton. Other events included on the fall schedule are the Young Peoples and Epworth League conferences which will be held Nov. 14 and 15 for the Appleton district; Nov. 16 to 20, Fond du Lac district; Nov. 21 and 22, Janesville; Nov. 23 and 24, Milwaukee.

NAME BECKLEY REGIONAL CHIEF OF LOAN LEAGUE

Appointment as Vice President Is Announced by State President at Milwaukee

George H. Beckley, secretary of Appleton Building and Loan Association, has been appointed as a regional vice president of the Wisconsin League of Building and Loan Associations, according to an announcement made by David F. Armitage, Milwaukee, state president. The state is divided into six districts with a vice president in charge of each.

Work of the state league has grown in amount annually because of the growth of building and loan associations, and the regional plan therefore is used in order to gain closer cooperation. There are now 160 associations in business in Wisconsin, with resources of more than $120,000,000, according to Mr. Beckley. The total membership is 160,000.

Appleton has perhaps the best record for growth of any association in Wisconsin, as its resources have passed the half million mark in a period of less than ten years since it was organized. The association was the means of solving the housing shortage which was so acute right after the World War. A number of public spirited persons turned their investments into building and loan channels at that time so there would be enough to loan to those who desired to build homes. The homebuilding idea has taken such deep root in Appleton that even with the large amount of money received applicants are obliged to "stand in line" until the receipts are enough to accommodate them with loans.

HARD TO MAKE IRISH KEEP THEIR LANGUAGE

Dublin.—(AP)—In evidence before the commission on the state of the Irish language in the Irish speaking districts, Dr. William O'Beirne, medical officer of County Galway, said that Irish was seldom used by officials of the local bodies in the county. Very few solicitors were able to converse in Irish and he knew of only one barrister who had mastered the tongue.

He did not believe, he said, that the soil in these western districts was sufficient to maintain the present population which depended a good deal on friends and families in America.

"From the time they leave school at the age of 12 and 13, the poor children of Connemara have their thoughts fixed on America, and how they can get away to it," he declared.

GERMAN INFANT DEATH RATE CUT SINCE WAR

Berlin.—(AP)—Statistics recently published show that the mortality among infants is much less than in pre-war days. During the third quarter of last year the death rate was only about one-half the percentage during the years just prior to the World War.

The medical authorities attribute this improved condition to the cool weather during the latter part of 1924 which they state is always more beneficial than warm weather for infants during their first year.

NEIGHBORS LOSE FIGHT AGAINST BAKERY OWNER

Court Affirms Building Permit
Granted by City to Charles Goettlicher

Charles Goettlicher, who recently built an addition to his bakeshop at 1112 E. North-st in spite of the efforts of some of his neighbors to get an injunction to prevent him from enlarging his plant, now can operate his bakery without fear of being disturbed. Judge Edgar V. Werner in circuit court this week entered a final judgment affirming the action of the city building inspector and the zoning board of appeals in issuing and approving for Goettlicher a building permit and later a certificate of occupancy for the addition to his shop.

Goettlicher was granted permission to build an addition to his plant July 7, after the zoning board of appeals had passed favorably on his application. He built the addition, and on July 27 was given a certificate of occupancy by the building inspector. This also was approved by the zoning board of appeals.

Four neighbors of Goettlicher, Bertha Behling, Harold Kunert, Lily Kunert, and Dr. Robert S. Mitchell, filed a petition asking that the court void the action of the board of appeals in approving Goettlicher's building permit on the ground that to build such an addition in the residence district was a violation of the city zoning ordinance which permits only the construction of residences in certain districts. The petitioners also claimed that Goettlicher's bakery was a nuisance because of the noise, odor, and smoke caused by it, and objected to any enlargement which would increase these undesirable features. Later the petitioners also asked that the action of the board of appeals in approving the certificate of occupancy be set aside.

Goettlicher argued that by building an addition to the bakeshop better sanitation was assured because in his original bakery he had to put bread into his oven and take it out in the same room in which he shoveled coal in the fire. It was said that this caused an unsanitary condition as the bread dough, bread, coal, and ashes all were in the same room. In the addition and a new oven the bread is put in and taken out in a room entirely separate from that in which the firing is done. The zoning ordinance provides it was held that if the enforcement of the ordinance will work against public health and general welfare, and will cause outstanding injustice when it will be permissible to vary from its strict terms, and make exceptions necessary. The board of appeals approved Goettlicher's building permit and his certificate of occupancy because it considered an addition to his bakeshop necessary to public health and general welfare. Judge Werner entered judgment for Goettlicher, on the ground that it would be an outstanding injustice to set aside the permit of the board of appeals after Goettlicher had obtained them lawfully, had acted on them, and had not gone beyond the rights they gave to him.

DORMITORY MEN RESUME STUDY OF VILLAGE PLAN

Work on the Y. M. C. A. dormitory village which was started several weeks ago will be resumed this week. The work was suspended for a few weeks because of preparations for the 1925 three-in-one campaign which ended Monday. A committee was appointed at a meeting of the Y. residents a few weeks ago to make a study of the plan in other associations of the country. This group probably will report now that the membership drive is over.

Brochures and letters have been pouring in from other associations where the plan has been adopted, and all have been given plenty of study. The local association will adopt the plan. The Y. residents of the association are helping with the work. The plan is to form a "village" among the dormitory residents with a mayor at the head and representatives from each "ward." Laws and regulations are adopted, "council" meetings are held and the little group regulates itself much as a city.

SELL SANDWICHES TO HELP TALISMAN STAFF

Members of the staff of the Talisman, official publication of the high school, held a sandwich sale in the school corridors Thursday afternoon. The sandwiches were prepared and sold by members of the staff, assisted by the domestic science department. The sales will be a regular feature of the school year and tend in an effort to clean up a small deficit left by last year's staff, and to raise funds to send members of the staff to the annual Central Inter-Scholastic Press association convention at Madison in November.

AWARD CITIES CONTEST PRIZE ON WEDNESDAY

Appleton Will Know Its Standing at State Social Conference at Stevens Point

Appleton will know at 8 o'clock next Wednesday evening how it stands in the better cities contest of the state for which there is a $1000 prize. The Wisconsin Conference of Social Work in annual session at that time at Stevens Point will make the announcement to the delegates assembled there.

Sessions are to open Sunday and close Wednesday night with a program that includes Louis J. Jannet of Appleton as a leader of a discussion on recreation. Two former Appleton persons, Miss Frances Brington, University of Wisconsin, and Fred M. Wiley, chairman of Wisconsin industrial commission, also are among the speakers and discussion chairmen.

Judges in the contest have decided that the cities will be rated in the order of their efficiency in each field that is, in the field of education they would be classified as first, second, third, fourth and so on. Then the winners would be selected by adding up their ratings and by making the first award to that city which secured the lowest figure. In this way it was felt that the total of good things in a community could best be indicated, and justice would be assured. It has been agreed also that each judge should write an individual resume for each of the cities in his field. These will be issued at the state meeting.

Mr. Bonini is on the program Tuesday noon, Oct. 27, when luncheon and an hour of discussion will be held. He will present the subject of recreation, a project which he has been advocating in Appleton.

Some of the principal speakers of the conference in addition to those mentioned are: Prof. John L. Gillin, University of Wisconsin; George P. Hambrecht, state board of vocational education; Aubrey Williams, executive secretary, Wisconsin Conference of Social Work; Stewart Scrimshaw, Milwaukee; J. R. Batchelor, New York City; Miss Tracy Copp, Washington, D. C.; Nat T. Frame, West Virginia university; Dr. C. A. Harper, state board of health; Dr. J. S. Crumblin, New York City; C. M. Osborne, city manager of Kenosha; the Rev. John F. Doherty, St. Paul W. V. Hiller, New York City; Francis H. Miller, New York City; Dr. L. L. Culp, Washington, D. C.; Miss Elmer D. Gregg, Washington, D. C.; John R. Brown, St. Paul; Miss Johanna Colcord, Minneapolis; Justice Marvin E. Tosenberry, Madison, who will award the contest prize.

YOUNG PASTOR GOES TO MERRILL CHURCH

Special to Post-Crescent.
Hortonville—The Rev. and Mrs. Immanuel Boettcher spent a few days at the home of the former's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. G. E. Boettcher. The junior Mr. Boettcher has been transferred from his pastorate in Nebraska to Merrill.

Mrs. Leonard Steinberg gave a shower Wednesday evening for her sister, Miss Esther Maldein, whose marriage to Karl Schoessow will take place Sunday. A large number of friends and relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. August Rover and Mrs. Carl Saur, were business visitors at Appleton Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fraef and son are spending a few days at Milwaukee. Jarvis Miller, Raymond Ritger and Fred Fuller attended a football game at Madison Saturday.

The faculty of the high school and a few other young people are rehearsing for the play, "A Cheerful Lie," which the expect to put on soon. The proceeds of the play will be used for the high school athletic association.

Albert Diestler has completed the foundation wall for the warehouse which the Buckman Grist Mill company is constructing.

LITTLE CHUTE PARTY DRAWS CROWD OF 200

Special to Post-Crescent.
Little Chute—About 200 persons attended the second of a series of card parties given by the members of St. John parish in the church basement Tuesday evening. Schafkopf and rummy were played and prizes were awarded to Otto Jenny, Chris Wildenberg, Mrs. Mary Van Groll and Mrs. J. Doyle.

Miss Valeria Van Evenhoven of Kaukauna, was a guest Sunday at the Albert Van Den Berg home. Mr. and Mrs. William Weyenberg returned Wednesday from an auto trip to Chicago and Columbus, Ohio. O. L. Jones of Chicago, spent Wednesday here on business. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Holzer and daughter Marion of Appleton, called on relatives here Sunday. Miss Beatrice Veretegen has accepted a position at Menasha.

KING GEORGE ADOPTS U. S. STYLE OF SPECS

London—(AP)—Conservative English people are adopting American ideas and habits to a greater extent than the average Englishman cares openly to admit. Even King George is wearing big tortoiseshell glasses. The style has been followed by several English hostesses in fashionable London following the example of a prominent American who entertained a couple to dinner at small tables.

FOREST JUNCTION PAIR MARRIED FOR 32 YEARS

Special to Post-Crescent.
Forest Junction—Quite a few relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Wagoner Sunday to celebrate their 32nd wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Altes of Chilton also were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schultz visited relatives at Green Bay over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schnell and Mrs. Henry Schnell visited relatives at Abrams Sunday.

Mrs. O. W. Dix visited with relatives at Neenah several days this week.

Mrs. Edward Rosner visited relatives at Pound for several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Decox of Green Bay visited at the Albert Janssen home Sunday.

Miss Lois Huebner of Cato visited with friends here Saturday, Oct. 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schleg were at Pound on business Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Franzke and Leona Reichart of New Holstein, and Leonard Otto attended a football game at Madison Sunday.

Mrs. H. A. Franzke left for Port Washington Saturday to conduct the rally day services there. She also spent several days with her parents at Racine.

Mr. and Mrs. Christoph and family and Mr. and Mrs. George Stenel of Milwaukee visited at the Joseph Franzke home over Sunday.

While a caquet entertainment of the most expensive and up-to-date nature went on.

Evening parties with music are now comparatively rare events and although some of the more important of London's hostesses are trying to introduce them the American idea of a caquet dinner is likely to outstrip them, and people generally welcome the novelty.

As some of the society chroniclers say, "What would London do without its American hostesses in these days?"

TEST FREE
You'll Feel Better
In a few hours if you really stir the liver.

Here is a message which means much to you and to nearly everybody. Modern research has proved that cathartics do not stimulate the liver. They do not increase the production of bile. They merely irritate the intestines. That's why the results are not real and enduring.

But a way has been found—the only way. It is a liver gland secretion taken from the cow. That does make the liver active and at once it increases the bile supply up to a quart a day. The results are many and important. A flood of bile clears the bowels, keeps them open. Those results come in a few hours. But bile is also a digestant. Bowel indigestion, due to lack of bile, is corrected by it.

Bile is also an antiseptic intended by nature to combat germs in the intestines. Without bile in plenty, those germs multiply by millions and feed poisons to the blood. Countless ill conditions are caused by those poisons.

This new discovery is of vast importance. Nearly everybody needs it. Physicians are prescribing it in tens of millions of tablets. And to countless people it is bringing benefits nothing else has brought.

MAY ASK C. OF C. VOTE ON COURT

Directors Won't Take Stand on World Court Until Views of Members Are Known

Chamber of commerce members probably will be asked to register their views on endorsement by the United States of the world court according to expressions by the board of directors at the biweekly luncheon Wednesday noon at Conway hotel.

The board has been asked to take stand concerning the world court in order to assist in the movement to build public sentiment for it. It was believed that this should not be done until the opinion of all the members was learned. No referendum vote will be taken, however, until a joint civic committee which is being formed at this time has held its meeting.

The chamber of commerce of the United States has endorsed the world court at four different times and has written to Appleton asking that similar action be taken here. Mayor John Goodland Jr. will be offered the services of the community welfare committee of the chamber of commerce in the city's effort to work out a garbage disposal system. This committee has gathered a large

GERMANS CONTINUE TO HONOR EBERT'S MEMORY

Heidelberg, Germany (AP)—In a ceremony in which large numbers of citizens in people hold the late president at Friedrich Ebert, the president's expression in the numerous pilgrimages to his tomb by republicans and admirers of various kinds. There are always fresh flowers on the grave and the graves are adorned with garlands furnished by individuals or societies honoring his memory and especially on Sundays there is a constant stream of visitors. Many workers singing societies pay tribute to their late leader by singing a dirge at his tomb.

Amount of information and has been helping to test out local sentiment. It is believed that the committee can and those appointed from the common council to give the matter study. Action taken by the chamber of commerce committee of the chamber in preparation for the annual farm festival dinner in November was approved. A speaker is to be obtained who will give an impartial explanation of the world court. Proposals from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce that resolutions be adopted here concerning a local income tax were laid on the table. The California city seeks to have congress change the tax law so the load will be more evenly distributed and not placed too heavily on the people of wealth.

HUNTERS MAY BRING RABBITS INTO COUNTY

Although there is a closed season for rabbit hunting in Outagamie county, hunters may bring into the county rabbits shot elsewhere, or buy many of them here to hunt about in counties where there is an open season on these animals. There has been considerable misunderstanding about rabbit hunting regulations in this county according to John E. Hant, county clerk. Some hunters have thought they cannot bring the rabbits they have shot into this county and others think they cannot get a license to hunt rabbits even though they intend to do their hunting where it is lawful.

ENGLISH MENTORS LONG FOR U. S. GENEROSITY

Oxford, Eng. —(AP)—The want in England of that abundant philanthropy in aid of education which is one of the highest distinctions of American men and women of wealth is leading to the slow starvation of the women's colleges of Oxford. Twenty thousand dollars a year for a ten year period has recently been allotted them out of the government grants but, as the master of University College pointed out in moving this appropriation, so small a sum can only aid them a little for the present without assisting in necessary further expansion. Many efforts have been made to raise money for the women's colleges but they have succeeded only in a very small way which does not approach the minimum needed for normal expansion. Nearly all these colleges have long wanted lists of young women who are debared from university education by the fact that there is no room for them in the present colleges.

STAGE
SCREENSTUDIO LIFE SHOWN IN NEW FILM DRAMA

The movie-going public will have an opportunity to see its curiosity in some measure concerning the famous "How movies are made" question when they see Ben Lyon and Mary Astor in "The Pace That Thrills," the new First National picture, showing at the Elite tonight for the last time.

"The Pace That Thrills," especially written for young Lyon by Byron Morgan, deals with the story of a popular young movie hero, and many intimate phases of studio life are shown in the picture.

THE HOME MAKER

"The Home Maker," a Universal Jewel King Baggot production, featuring Alice Joyce and Clive Brook, will be screened at the Elite theatre Saturday and Sunday with a great cast supporting the two leads. "The Home Maker" is the screen adaptation of the story of the name written by Dorothy Canfield, which is a faithful portrayal of home life. King Baggot, the famous actor-director, supervised the making of the picture.

LEWIS STONE HERE SOON

Lewis Stone avers that any man would become a confirmed bachelor if in real life he had the experience Stone has in "The Lost World," which comes to the Elite Theatre next week.

Just as Stone is about to win a first kiss from the lady of his choice (Bessie Love), a hungry prehistoric dinosaur, as big as seven elephants, tears into the scene looking for lunch—then the fun begins.

PIONEERS STILL RETAIN TRACK
LIVING RECORDS

Without any of the machinery which lightens modern labors, the story pioneers who constructed the first railroad to unite the east and west established records which are still unbroken. Not even in the World War did trained engineers build ten miles of track a day. The Central Pacific railroad gangs did it in the early sixties against almost impossible odds. They fought Indians while they worked and they went without supplies, often without food and sleep.

How they did it is told admirably in the William Fox special production called "The Iron Horse," at the New Bijou today and Saturday.

Many of them wore army trousers and they "fell in" like soldiers, for they had just come from the ranks of the Union and Confederate armies. Their guns were stacked alongside the rails while they worked. The Sioux Indians were always hovering in the offing, waiting for the slightest opportunity to strike.

It makes a dramatic story—one which Robert Louis Stevenson declared should be the great American work of literature—and the picture certainly takes its place among the outstanding productions of the screen. George O'Brien and Madge Bellamy have the leading roles, with the support of a large and talented cast, supplemented with regular soldiers, a whole tribe of Indians and all the great outdoors to work in. John Ford was the director.

"LOVERS IN QUARANTINE"

BEBE DANIELS' LATEST
There's a combination which should tickle the comedy-loving public's palate.

These two laugh-makers play opposite each other in Bebe's latest Paramount starring picture, "Lovers in Quarantine," now showing at Fischer's Appleton Theatre. "Miss Bluebeard" and "The Lucky Devil" directed the production, which was written for the screen by Townsend Martin and Luther Reed from F. Tennyson Jesse's New York stage success, "Quarantine."

The story is one of a ship's bride and a strange honeymoon—of Bebe, as Diana Gordon, a daring little society miss who elopes with her sister's fiancé. It's fast and furious fun from start to finish.

Alfred Lunt, Eden Gray and other big stage and screen favorites appear in the cast.

Also Harry Langdon "Lucky Stars," Aesop's Fables, Pathe News, and an organologue featuring "Brown Eyes—Why Are You Blue?"

START BUILDING POWER LINE FROM NEW LONDON

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—A large shipment of electric light poles to be used in carrying the high voltage electrical line to Royalton, have arrived at Royalton from the state of Washington, where they were cut. They are ready for use by the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company of Appleton, which is constructing the new line. Connection will be made where the company's wires enter the city at the local Edison plant. Work on the project is being rushed so that the residents of that community may have the current delivered to their homes at a nominal cost.

BEGIN WORK ON NEW OFFICE FOR KAUKAUNA DOCS

Doctors Flanagan and Bollinske Break Ground for New Structure

Kaukauna—Ground was broken Wednesday for construction of an office building for Drs. G. J. Flanagan and E. J. Bollinske. The contract for excavating and for constructing the basement has been awarded to the McCarthy Construction company, and a huge digger finished the work by Thursday evening.

Contracts for the superstructure have not been awarded because plans for the building are not entirely finished. It is expected that general contracts will be let next Tuesday and that the building will go rapidly forward and will be ready for occupancy within sixty or ninety days.

The erection of this building on the vacant lot between Hotel Kaukauna and the Normal school grounds is one of the results of the sale of Hotel Kaukauna, some time ago by the First Realty and Investment company of this city to A. A. Scowley of Chicago. Mr. Scowley notified occupants of the hotel to move within thirty days so that the plans for finishing and redecorating and the building could go ahead without interference. As there were no office rooms vacant at the time, they decided to build.

Social Items

Kaukauna—Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Licht, 100 Island-st., entertained at a 6-o'clock luncheon Wednesday in honor of the eighth birthday anniversary of their son Jack. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Chopin and son William, Jr., of Appleton.

Mrs. John Heinz was elected president of the Eagle ladies at their regular meeting Thursday afternoon at her home. Mrs. Martin Van Roy was elected vice president and Mrs. Matt Wingling secretary. Mrs. H. Netikoven was initiated into the club as a new member. After the business meeting cards were played and prizes were won by the following: Mrs. Michael Wrublesky, Mrs. Albert Wolf and Mrs. Fred Whitman.

Mrs. Hugo Welfenbach entertained a number of friends at a duck supper Thursday evening.

Mrs. Eva Vanden Berg of Appleton entertained a group of Kaukauna ladies at her home Thursday. Prizes at cards were won by Mrs. Peter Feller, and Mrs. Otto Heindel.

A large crowd attended the card party at Holy Cross auditorium Wednesday evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. William Kappel and Mrs. Charles Kalista. Otto Minkelberg and William Pahnke and Miss Agnes Rink and Miss M. Mathie.

The regular weekly meeting of the Odd Fellows was held Thursday evening. Routine business was disposed of.

Miss Anne Giese left Friday for Augusta, where she will act as maid of honor at the wedding of Miss Almida Johnson, formerly a teacher in the local high school, and M. K. Albertson. The marriage is to take place Saturday afternoon. The couple will reside at Milwaukee after the wedding. Miss Johnson is well known in Kaukauna.

A group of Kaukauna people attended the wedding of Dr. Lester E. Kalk, formerly a Kaukauna boy, and Miss Jean Mahon of Chicago at Hotel Wendenburg at Chicago Wednesday evening. The wedding was attended by about 200 guests. A banquet was served after the wedding.

200 TICKETS SOLD FOR DANCE BY FIREFIGHTERS

Kaukauna—Henry "Coonie" Esler was awarded the medal for having sold the largest number of tickets for the firemen's dance Friday evening. Esler sold tickets to every business man on the south side and he also sold a number on the north side.

Up to Friday morning nearly 200 tickets had been sold. The dance is to be held Friday night and the proceeds will be used to buy a radio for the engine house.

RAH GIRLS HOLD SALE TO BOOST SCHOOL FUND

Kaukauna—The regular meeting of the "Rah Rah Girls" was held Thursday evening after school.

Plans were made for a sandwich sale to be held after school Tuesday, Oct. 27. The proceeds will go into a general fund which in turn is to be used to give a school party later in the year.

A committee composed of Misses Hildegard Wersechen, chairman, Cleo Bayorgoon, Magdalene Haupt, Dorothy Haas and Iola Hendricks was appointed to take charge of the arrangements. Miss Bertha Kunz was appointed chairman of the advertising committee.

8c SALE OF COLORED GLASS WARE continues tomorrow. Values to $2.50. GEENEN'S adv.

13 WIN HONORS FOR H. S. SCHOLARSHIP

Kaukauna—Much apprehension was felt Friday by the members of the football squad when report cards were distributed. It was found, however, that the squad did not lose a man through ineligibility.

Thirteen students received special merits and 20 pupils had an average of over 90 per cent. Those receiving special merits were: Seniors—Robert Dadsch 97, George Look 96, Dorothy Haas 96, Edna Sager 92 and Herbert Haas 91; Juniors—Valeria Vanenhoven 95, Charles Bartsch 93 and Helen Hagman 93; sophomores—Gretchen Drissen 95, Lucille Haas 95, Anna Maes 94, Lezelle Drissen 93, and Carol Welfenbach 91.

Frank 92, Mildred Haas 93; freshmen—Gordon Nicholson 92, Marvin Miller 91 and Mabel Look 91.

SOPHOMORES THROW OUT VOTE AND TRY AGAIN

Kaukauna—Owing to an alleged irregularity in the election Tuesday, the sophomore class, at the advice of Olin G. Dryer, held a second election. The first election showed a close race between Langley and Derus for president. Langley received 31 votes and Derus received 30. After the election an investigation by Mr. Dryer showed that there had been an error in the voting and at the second election Lloyd Derus was elected president by a large majority. Edward Langley was elected vice president and Miss Gretchen Drissen remained in the office of secretary-treasurer. Miss Ruth Nemacheck was unanimously elected class advisor.

NEW GOLF CLUB VOTES TO BUY 40-ACRE TRACT

Just, Ruppel, Trayser, Bloney and Stofer Are Named on Board of Directors

New London—New London Golf club got under way Thursday evening when members met in the city hall and completed the organization. The list of members read by the membership committee totaled 50 now signed up, of whom several are women. The city of Clintonville is expected to furnish a large number of new members also, as a communication which was received from several residents of that city signified their intention of securing a goodly number from there, providing the links would be located between the cities of New London and Clintonville. It is now definitely decided that they will be. The membership committee also has a large number of local residents who have expressed eagerness to join soon.

The newly elected board of directors, which is expected to meet this week for election of officers and other items of business, will set a time limit for the acceptance of charter members. This time limit will be short, so that the books can be closed at an early date. All who become members after the date set will be obliged to pay an additional ten per cent federal tax, in addition to the regular membership charge.

SELL 75 SHARES
The capital stock has been set at 100 shares in the articles of incorporation. Each member will be allowed one share, and no member will be allowed to hold more than one share at a time. The board of directors will, it is expected, place only about 75 shares on sale, in order to provide for a waiting list for the club. A member's share can be transferred to someone else upon the approval of the board of directors.

The meeting Thursday evening was presided over by M. C. Trayser, who acted as chairman pro tem, with T. G. Roberts acting in the capacity of temporary secretary. A large number of members was in attendance.

The board of directors elected at the meeting consists of the following five members, as provided in the articles of the incorporation: E. C. Just, George Ruppel, M. C. Trayser, Guy Bloney and William Stofer. They are expected to meet this week to elect officers, draw up the bylaws for the club and appoint the grounds committee, which will supervise the engineering and construction of the course. They were authorized to purchase at once 40 acres of land from Christ Tech. on highway 26, two and a half miles north of the city, on which the club as an option. Negotiations are also under way for an additional 15 acres adjoining the 40 which is to be purchased.

EXCELLENT COURSE
The 40-acre tract is pronounced by critics to be ideal for a golf course with many natural hazards, as well as other necessities. A number of the members who are most interested in the project will buy the land and pay cash for it, at a cost of $7,000. They will sell it to the gold club at cost under a land contract, so they can be repaid in installments.

The new articles of incorporation were read to those present. They are based upon those of other golf clubs in the state, chiefly that of Madison, with the best features taken from each. The charter of the club was issued on Oct. 15. The ideas of the members are to have the club serve as a golf club only, and not to convert it into a country club, with a large expenditure for a clubhouse, or to make it a social organization. It is expected to use 55 acres of land for the nine hole course, which will be opened in the spring of 1926.

HOPE TO TROUNCE MENASHA HIGHS

Squad Will Come to New London for Football Game on Saturday Afternoon

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The high school football team went through its last grind of the week Thursday afternoon, preparatory to meeting one of its old opponents, Menasha, here Saturday afternoon. Last year New London played Menasha at that city on Nov. 4. This year Menasha is not rated as high in the minds of many plegskin critics, while New London is practically in the same boat, with an almost green team, but with splendid chance for development. Therefore, local fans who have followed the antics of both teams throughout the season predict a good and closely matched game for Saturday, and, if anything, giving New London a slight edge over her opponent from the south.

Several shifts have recently been made in the Red and White lineup, so that the team is not the same in started the season off some weeks ago, hardly any department as that which The game will commence at 2:30 o'clock, and all fans who are interested in a good football game are urged to turn out and root for the home team.

BASEBALL TEAM GETS CHAMPIONSHIP TROPHY

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Charles Stuart, manager of the New London baseball team which won the championship of the Waupaca County league during the past season, has received a large silver loving cup on behalf of the local team. The cup, which stands almost two feet high, is on display at the Soda Grill.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

Freed From Bad Health, Men and Women Everywhere Praise This Great Tonic

Remarkable Recoveries Reported by Users of Sys-Tone

Men and women who were ailing, nervous, sick and weak, utterly discouraged in their attempts to get well, give startling accounts of rapid recovery made through the use of the old, reliable tonic—Sys-Tone.

In case after case, it has triumphed over illness after other remedies had failed and has restored health, vigor and joy of living to thousands. Weak spells, stomach ailments, chronic sleeplessness, nervousness, lack of appetite, dizziness, headaches, kidney and bowel ailments—these are some of the conditions from which sufferers everywhere have been freed by Sys-Tone.

Baffling Cases Quickly Yield to Sys-Tone

John Springfield writes: "I was all in—had dizzy spells and lost so much weight and strength that I had to quit my work. I took Sys-Tone regularly and now I work ten hours every day."

"For months," says Mrs. Icie Montgomery, "my nerves were in such a shape that I could not rest day or night. I could eat nothing and was badly constipated. I used Sys-Tone; now I sleep like a child. My appetite is good and my bowels are regular. I feel like a new woman."

taking of Sys-Tone. Mrs. Annie Abbott lost weight, had dizzy spells, could not eat was too weak to do her household work. An operation was recommended, but as a last resort, she tried Sys-Tone. Her recovery was rapid—now she is normal once more and says Sys-Tone saved her health.

These are but a few cases out of the thousands who have written—telling of their remarkable experiences with this great tonic.

A Physician's Prescription

Sys-Tone is the formula of a successful physician who used it in his own practice for years—but finally he was prevailed upon to allow it to be distributed nationally—so that now you can get Sys-Tone at the drug store, just as the doctor prepared it for his patients.

Chronic ailments are dangerous—they lead to untold misery and suffering. Let Sys-Tone bring back your health, and give you new strength. If you are constipated, ask for Sys-To-Lax.

WEYAUWEGA HAS SERIES OF FIVE ARTIST NUMBERS

Business Men Arrange for Entertainment Starting With Concert Nov. 6

Special to Post-Crescent
Weyauwega—The business men of Weyauwega have united in a project which will bring to Weyauwega an excellent lecture and entertainment course. The series consists of five numbers.

The first one, the Deben company, will appear at the auditorium of the high school, Nov. 6. The camp fire girls and boy scouts are competing in the advance sale of tickets.

The second number on Nov. 25 will be the Gypsy Serenaders, three young women in a delightful program of vocal and instrumental music. Fred High, editor and publisher, will deliver a lecture, Jan. 4, 1926 on the subject "Making Service Pay."

The Smith-Spring-Holmes orchestral quintet will appear on Jan. 26, and the last number will be Beatrice Weller, cartoonist, sometime in March.

A large audience heard Dr. S. M. Keyes of Oshkosh, speak on Child Welfare in the high school auditorium, Tuesday evening under auspices of Weyauwega Woman's club. The program opened with music by a male quartet, R. Williams, Edward Lewis, S. B. Lewis and A. Ritchie, after which Prof. E. F. Dougherty introduced the speaker, Dr. S. M. Keyes.

Mr. Dougherty announced that the people of Weyauwega would be welcome at Waupaca to hear Dr. Gamble, the biologist, and that he would speak to the student body some time during general assembly period.

Dr. Dougherty also announced the Eighth District convention of Parent-Teachers associations to take place at Waupaca, Thursday, Oct. 29. He announced also that Dr. Sherwood will speak to the boys above the age of 12, and their fathers at the gymnasium at 11:15 Monday, Oct. 26, and to the high school boys and men of the faculty Tuesday morning at 9:15. The program closed with a song by the quartet.

Otto Miller is in county jail at Waupaca, charged with driving a car when intoxicated. He is said to have caused a collision on highway 18 near Little River on Sunday.

GREAT ARTIST ON SPLENDID ORGAN THRILLS AUDIENCE

Riemenschneider Plays Wonderful Program on New Methodist Church Organ

Appleton's music loving public Thursday night was given a taste of what is in store for it in the way of superior pipe organ music from the huge organ in the new Methodist Episcopal church. The instrument was formally initiated by Dr. Albert Riemenschneider, organist of Trinity Presbyterian church at Cleveland. A great artist and a wonderful organ! That was the positive impression one carried away from the recital. Certainly it must have been a unanimous one. A recital of this kind, a master musician performing upon such a rare instrument, is the first heard in this region. But Appleton has reason to hope it will not be the last.

Many of the singular possibilities of this $30,000 instrument, one of the most complete in the west, were opened up under the magical touch of Professor Riemenschneider. He played to an appreciative audience which took up every available seating space of the beautiful new church which is to be dedicated Sunday.

The technique of the masters, as shown by the nimble fingers that glided with lightning like speed over the keys, the interpretation he gave the classics of organ music, were something that will long be remembered with recurring admiration.

It would be difficult to select the most pleasing numbers of the long and diversified program, as every one's taste is not alike, nor always that of the musician himself. But if anything was made clear by the rendition of such compositions as Bach's "O Sacred Head Now Wounded," and Regner's "Benedictus," it was that the pipe organ is not only primarily, but essentially a church instrument, and that it is in such environment that the performer can best call forth from hidden recesses of this instrument strains that will play upon the human soul.

There were moments in the recital that seemed to lift one above one's self and all things earthly, and in that dramatic hush one almost felt the breath of angels. When the artist played the seraph's hymn from Guilman's Funeral March to the harplike accompaniment—the music seeming to come from a great distance—it was as

THIS WOMAN'S RECOMPENSE

"I was so weak and nervous I could hardly do my housework," says Mrs. Harry Ashcroft of Covington, Ky. "I could not stand because of the bearing-down pains in my back and abdomen. One day I read how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped others and decided to try it. I wanted to praise this wonderful medicine for the health and strength it has given me and ask other suffering women to try it." This is the one great dependable medicine for women's ills. Adv.

If some one had left the doors of heaven ajar for the time being.

The innermost depths of anguish pictured in the great Passion Hymn of Bach, the sigh of bliss emanating from the composition by Regner, the solemn funeral march of Guilman, working up to the climatic peal of trumpets and the hymn of seraphs with the arpeggio accompaniment, the tremulous tones of the soothing Intermezzo of Rogers, the counterpoint melody in Widor's Fifth Symphony Toccata, the fugues in the concert study by Yon in which the pedals are kept at a perpetual movement and notes were continuously chasing one another, all were elements of unusual charm.

Examples of highly delightful descriptive music were provided in Yon's Christmas scene in Sicily portraying the chiming from the church towers, the hurrying about of crowds and the performance of street musicians; also in the pastoral selection from Guilman in which was heard the piping of shepherds, one after another taking up the melody finally interrupted by the far-off strains of a matutinal hymn from a monastery. In these selections the solo organ and the echo

SHRINERS GUESTS AT DINNER IN NEENAH

George R. Wettengel, and Dr. H. K. Pratt attended a duck dinner Thursday evening given by the Twin City Shrine club at the Masonic temple in Neenah, as ambassadors from the Appleton commandery. Ambassadors from all commanderies in the Fox river valley were present. Talks on shrine work were given by A. H. Wagner, recorder, of Milwaukee; and by Fred Dörner, potentate, Milwaukee. Joseph Roussellot, Milwaukee, chief ambassador, also was present. About 75 persons attended the dinner.

organ in the church balcony were used to excellent advantage.

Music suggesting a great symphony orchestra, or a choir of thousands of voices, expressing the most sublime thoughts was realized. It was difficult to conceive of more grandeur, or greater sweetness, than that expressed in Wagner's Song to the Evening Star and interpreted by Dr. Riemenschneider.

SET DATE TO HEAR PLEA FOR RIGHT TO ABANDON LINE

Railroad Commission Orders Hearing on Traction Company Plea Here Nov. 12

Hearing on the application of the Wisconsin Traction Light, Heat and Power Co. for permission to abandon its interurban line between Appleton, Menasha and Neenah will be held in the city hall here on Thursday, Nov. 12, it was announced Friday by the Wisconsin Railroad commission. Notices of the hearing have been received by the traction company and by city officials at Appleton, Neenah and Menasha.

The petition filed by the traction company with the railroad commission sets forth that the interurban line is losing money at a rapid rate and if it is required to continue operating the property will be taken without compensation.

It is said in the petition that the Neenah-Appleton line was built before the coming of automobiles and busses and that now busses are transporting passengers between the cities served by the interurban line and because of the comparatively light traffic on the electric cars the line does not produce sufficient revenue to pay expenses. It is alleged that transportation needs between the cities can be adequately served by the lines.

AUTOISTS HURT WHEN CAR JUMPS INTO DEEP CREEK

Machine Breaks Through
Stone Barrier at Foot of Little Chute Hill

Two persons were injured, one seriously, in an automobile accident on Highway 15 at the foot of the Little Chute hill at 1:45 Thursday afternoon.

They are:
John Miller, 315 State-st., Milwaukee, who is suffering a contusion of the chest and cuts about his head and hands.

Edward B. Bowie, 1002 S. Canal-st., Chicago, lacerations and bruises about the body and head.

Both men are at St. Elizabeth hospital. Miller was reported to be in a critical condition Friday morning. Bowie's injuries are not serious, and he was resting easier Friday.

Had it not been for the presence of Gael W. Palmer of Sturgeon Bay, who was driving behind the car occupied by the men who were injured, the latter might have drowned. He rescued them from the creek into which they were thrown and took them to the hospital.

The injured men, who were driving a large Paige, were on their way from Green Bay to Chicago. At the foot of the Little Chute hill they struck the culvert, and the car with its occupants was thrown into the creek.

Palmer, who was following a short distance behind, immediately stopped and rescued the men from the water. The injured men were taken to St. Elizabeth hospital.

The car in which they were driving is a total wreck.

AUTO DRIVER COLLIDES WITH CITY STREET CAR

While driving his Ford coupe east on W. Spencer-st. at 9:20 Friday morning, Frank Berth, 1342 W. Spencer-st., collided with a Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company street car No. 53, at the S. Mason-st. intersection. Berth was slightly injured and his car damaged.

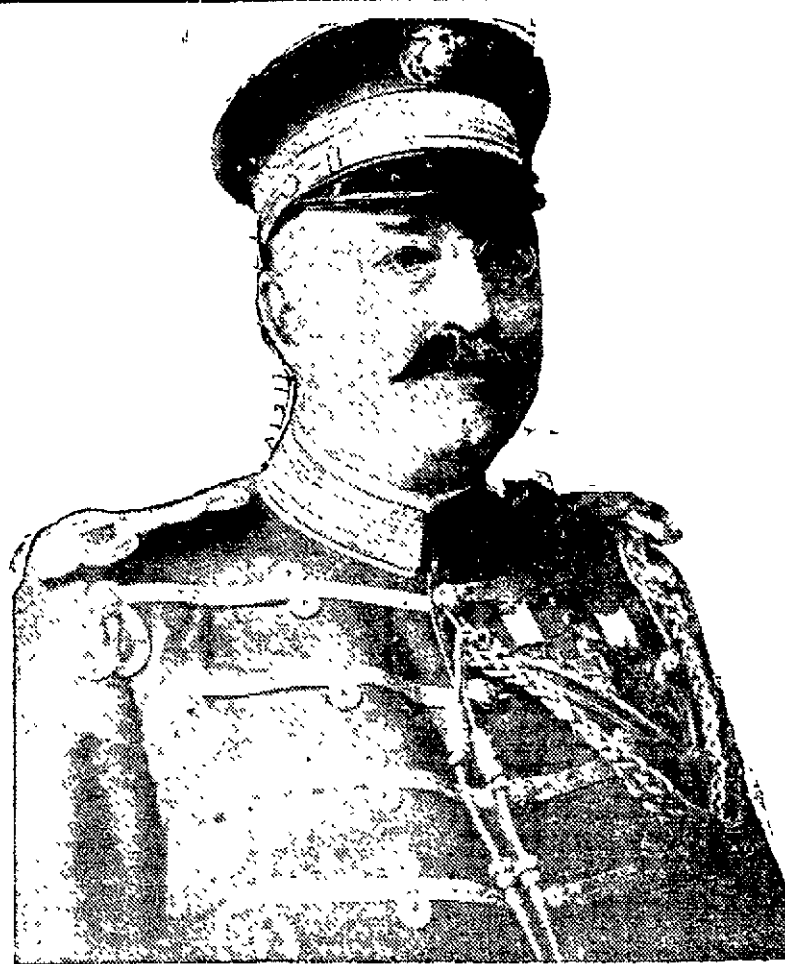

He received lacerations about his face, a cut on his right hand and a severe bruise on his left leg.

The left front wheel on his car was broken, the left front fender was bent and the headlights broken. The right front windows on the street car were shattered.

The street car was in charge of motorman Lawrence Guthrie, 121 N. Radnor-ave.

MUSICIAN FIRST, SOLDIER NEXT

Capt. William H. Santelmann, who is at the head of the United States Marine band which will fill two engagements in Lawrence Memorial chapel the afternoon and evening of Nov. 3, is not a military officer, primarily, but musician, and as such he ranks with the most capable band directors in the world.

He is a thorough musician and a magnetic, though dignified leader. He is familiar with every instrument of the band, as well as the orchestra. Mr. Santelmann has received many honors, the most recent being from George Washington university, Washington, D. C., which conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Music. He has been conductor of the famous President's band since 1898.

The position of Capt. Santelmann is that of an instructor of the public in music. In the six weeks at his disposal for a concert tour he does his best in educating America in the fine points of high class instrumental music. War conditions interrupted his annual tour with the band, but last year the tours were resumed. These tours are usually made at a time when the band's absence from Washington, will not interfere with its official duties in the capital.

When President Coolidge gives permission for a tour of the band, several preliminaries are necessary. The organization is regarded so important a factor in Washington official functions that a study of the schedule of

ARMISTICE DAY IS LEGION DAY

World War Veterans Urged to Take Charge of Celebrations on Peace Day

A plea that American Legion posts throughout the county sponsor all celebrations on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, was made to delegates who attended the meeting of the Outagamie council of the American Legion at New London Thursday evening.

Officers of the council declared that the day rightly belonged to the American legion, and that posts should see that Armistice Day was properly observed in their various localities. Delegates also were urged to arrange for speakers to address schools during the day.

The Appleton post was represented at the meeting by four delegates. They were H. J. Pettigrew, Alfred Bosser, George Dame and Joseph Wittmer. There was 26 present. The meeting was preceded by a dinner at 6:30.

Following the gathering the delegates attended a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of New London. New officers of the auxiliary were installed.

barracks. The application, if approved, is then forwarded to the commandant of the marine corps, Major General Lejeune. Thence the application goes to secretary of the navy, and it must finally be approved by the president.

250 AT DINNER TO CLOSE 1925 BALL CAMPAIGN

Menasha Represented at Social Meeting of Eastern Wisconsin League

Menasha—R. C. Miller, Steve Kolasinski, H. E. Landgraf, Carl Heckrodt and Anthony Prinsuske attended the first annual banquet of the Eastern Wisconsin Baseball League at Hotel Reflow, Fond du Lac, Thursday evening. Cars were paid for 250 persons, and nearly all the neighboring cities, particularly those with teams in the league, were represented.

The event was purely a social affair and no league business was considered. It is the intention of the officers to call a business session later at which preliminary steps will be taken for the organization of a league for next season and for the organization of a basketball league for the coming winter. Menasha Athletic association will be represented in both leagues.

The program included several speakers among whom was R. C. Miller, recreational director. His subject was "Amateur Sports and Home Talent Ball Leagues." Other speakers were Otto Borchert, president of Milwaukee Baseball club; M. Daves of Watertown, president of the Little Six Tri-County League; E. J. Larson, president of Eastern Wisconsin League; and Frank Sinclair, president of the Southeastern Wisconsin League.

One of the features of the banquet was the presentation of the pennant and championship trophy to the Plymouth team. The program included several musical numbers, recitation, and one-act farce. The dining room was decorated in Halloween colors and the favors were paper hats.

FINISH WORK ON PREMIUM BOOK

Poultry Association Will Offer Large Number of Cups to Exhibitors at Show

Menasha—The committee in charge of the premium list reported progress at the meeting of Winnebago Poultry and Pet Stock association at the city hall Thursday evening. The committee will hold a meeting within the next two weeks at which it will complete the premium list which it expects to have ready for distribution by Dec. 1. The annual show will be held Dec. 31, Jan. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

The greater portion of the meeting was occupied with a discussion of the purchase of silver cups. At least 12 cups will be offered as prizes in the pikeon department alone. Five local breeders of pikeons are planning to send exhibits to the Middle West pikeon show at Belleville, Ill., Nov. 6 to 10.

SOCIAL ITEMS AT MENASHA

Menasha—The ladies of St. Mary church will hold their annual bazaar at St. Mary school hall next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The program will include a supper Wednesday and a card party Thursday.

The Eagle ladies held their weekly card party at Eagle hall Friday afternoon. Schafkopf, whist and bridge were played.

A meeting of the Catholic Protective association will be held Friday evening at St. Mary school hall. Routine business will be considered.

Miss Pauline DeWolf and Mrs. H. W. Nussbicker entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon and bridge Thursday at Hotel Menasha. Prizes were won by Mrs. George Elmers of Neenah and Mrs. W. G. Comenz of Appleton.

The Women's Catholic Order of Foresters held a meeting Thursday evening at St. Mary school hall. The business session was followed by cards. One of the features of the meeting was the presentation of a gift to Mrs. Theodore Guesz in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of her marriage.

Miss Larvina Kellenhauser, who is to become the bride of George LaFond of Appleton early next month, was given a shower by 30 friends at her home Thursday evening. Whist and schafkopf were played and the prize winners were: Whist—Mrs. Frank Smith; schafkopf, Mrs. Gus Fahrtenkrug, Mrs. Resch.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Jakowski were surprised by 25 relatives and friends at their home, 779 Appleton-st. Thursday evening in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Out of town guests were Mrs. J. C. Harth and Mr. and Mrs. William Vanderhyden.

USE DYNAMITE TO BLAST TRENCH

Explosion Throws Huge Sewer Digging Scoop High in Air but No Damage Is Caused

Menasha—The scoop of the trenching machine engaged in digging the new sewer in Keyes-st was thrown among the branches of a tree Thursday afternoon when a quantity of dynamite was discharged in the trench to remove rock.

The scoop was placed on a heavy plate of sheet metal on the trench to prevent the pieces of rock from going into the air. Both the metal and scoop soared aloft. No damage was caused to the scoop which resumed its work a few minutes later.

The crew expects to reach Winnebago-ave within a week or ten days. It is now working in nearly four feet of rock and is digging a trench nearly ten feet deep. Owing to the presence of rock the sides are jagged. The trench is about six feet in width at the surface of the ground and narrows down to the width of the sewer pipe at the bottom.

Owing to the lateness of the season the sewer will not be completed this fall. It was planned to turn on Winnebago-ave to reach Nicolet-blvd, but this plan probably will be changed to avoid penetrating Winnebago-ave hill. This can be done by carrying the sewer further east on Keyes-st and then south.

Dresses For Morn, Noon
And Night

New York—Change your silhouette is the clock is the French idea. Don't get too much attached to the night and narrow way with frocks yet with the too expansive. Keep your lines moving, straight in the afternoon, and fluff in the evening. Here are three gowns, part of the expensive and extensive wardrobe purchased in Paris by Gilda Gray, dancer and motion picture actress, illustrating how the silhouette may vary or be straight without compromise with style.

For morning, Lelong joined a skirt blue duvety and a blouse of beige sha, and saw that it was good. Here she had the decided flare and full skirt that is a very new outline. For afternoon the same designer gave the full-skirted frock that has grace and grace of line that spells youth and snap. This model is of navy silk voile with bands of crimson velvet embroidered with metal rings and many-colored beads so that it runs its name, "Parade."

For evening the bouffant style is most lovely and was never more authoritatively expressed than in the Jean-Lanvin model of pink satin with short bodice and revers and vest of er cloth and a corsage of satin and silver ribbon streamers.

MEN SAY THERE ARE TWO KINDS OF HELPMATES

From a man's point of view there are only two kinds of women. . . . the sort that inspires him to make something of himself, and the kind that helps him destroy his ambition. And the difference between them is the difference between buttermilk and a Bacardi cocktail.

The cocktail may seem to stimulate, but it's really poison. The buttermilk has no bouquet, no sparkle, but it's a source of strength and energy.

Bernard Shaw says that no woman is fit for human company, but that's because he has a reputation to keep in for being insulting and impudent. There is no better company for any man than a clever woman, for when a woman really is clever she usually understands man well enough to mix the mental food appealingly and in the proper measure.

"Deliver me from the smart woman" is an oft-heard masculine remark. Meaning, of course, a woman who sets out to prove that the feminine intellect is as good, if not better, than the masculine, who is eternally trying to "put man in his place" by exhibiting wider reading and more information on a given subject.

And such a woman is a bore to everybody regardless of sex.

Every clever person understands that all men and women, no matter what their degree of commonplaceness, may have superior knowledge in some subjects.

A good part of being clever lies in recognizing and giving due to cleverness in others without one jot of effort to force recognition of one's own cleverness.

Nothing is so deadening to ambition in a man as a wife's attitude that it is a calamity that she is not the head of the family and he the homemaker. And nothing is so inspiring to a man as the confidence of a wife in his ability to hold his own with other men.

SISTER
Mary's KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

The nicest way to begin a hot weather dinner is with a chilled course. This may be of fruit or a filled and jellied bouillon. A chilled fish preferred but since fish is a bit hearty" it may well be served later or cocktail may, of course, be used for the meal.

Any fruit cocktail must be thoroughly chilled and very cold when served. The fruit should be cut neatly and never be crushed or broken. If juice is wanted it should be strained before adding to the cocktail. Never make a cocktail too sweet, the tartness of the fruit whets the appetite and too much sweetness defeats the purpose of the concoction.

CHERRY COCKTAIL

Two cups sweet cherries, 1-2 cup orange juice, 2 tablespoons chopped and blanched almonds, 1 tablespoon powdered sugar.

Remove stones from cherries, saving the juice. Combine cherry juice and strained orange juice with sugar. Chill fruit and juice separately. When ready to serve put cherries into glasses, sprinkle with nuts and pour over juice.

This recipe will serve six or eight persons.

FRUIT SOUP

Two and one-half cups raspberry juice, 3-4 cup sugar, few grains salt, 1 tablespoon arrowroot.

Dissolve arrowroot in a little cold water. Add fruit juice and boil until thick. Stir to keep smooth. Add sugar and salt and stir well. Chill and serve in sherbet glasses. The soup must be very cold when served. Will serve six persons.

A "macedoine" of fruit is rather more elaborate but delicious and out of the ordinary.

MACEDOINE OF FRUIT

Lemon jelly, 1 cup strawberries, 1 cup blackberries, 1 cup raspberries, 1 cup pitted sweet cherries.

Use any good prepared jelly, following directions on the package for making the jelly. Two tablespoons of sugar can be added to the jelly if the fruit is tart. Put a little of the liquid jelly into the mold and add a layer of fruit carefully selected and washed and dried. Pour over a little of the jelly, not enough to float the fruit. When the jelly is beginning to set add another layer of fruit and cover with jelly. Continue layer for layer until all is used. Chill thoroughly. Turn out of mold and cut in slices to serve.

The jelly will set quickly in the layers so the process is not too long. If water clings to the fruit it will make the jelly too soft, so care must be taken to dry the fruit.

The slices of jelly are most attractive served on a grape leaf or with a garnish of mint leaves.

The recipe will serve six persons.

THE DAY'S MENU

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, cereal, thin cream, crisp graham toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Jellied salmon salad, cucumber sauce, rye bread, tapioca cream pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner—Tomato puree, croutons, rice with green peas au gratin, hard-cooked eggs and watercress salad, red raspberry blanc-mange, sunshine cake, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

Although the cucumber sauce is not suitable for the junior members of a family the sauce is so good that the recipe is included. With this exception there are no dishes suggested that may not be served to a child four years of age.

No meat is planned in the dinner menu, the eggs in the salad and the cheese in the rice and pea dish making up the deficiency.

This attractive hat is made of folds of black satin ribbon and arranged on a very smart little shape. A fan of the ribbon, pleated, makes a snappy trimming.

OYSTERS ARE AT BEST DURING WINTER MONTHS

Oysters should be included in the diet of every family. Not only because they are at their best during the "W" months from September to April but because they contain a larger amount of iodine than any other single food. Recent investigations by the Bureau of Fisheries disclose the fact that oysters, clams and lobsters contain about two hundred times as much iodine as milk, eggs or beef steak. This will be particularly interesting news to people who live in or near Milwaukee and other parts of the country where disorders of the thyroid gland are common. Oysters are remarkable also among ordinary food substances for their high proportion of glycogen, a substance resembling starch, but much more readily and easily assimilated. Unlike starch this substance is wholly digestible even when uncooked.

Following is a good recipe for oyster salad:

Rinse oysters in cold water, drain and pick over to remove any bits of shell. Bring oysters to a boil in a small amount of water. Skin them out and season with three tablespoons of vinegar, a little salt and pepper. Cut enough celery to make a pint, using only the tender part. When ready to serve, mix well with the oysters. Have ready a little more than half a pint of mayonnaise dressing; add part of this to the oysters and celery. Arrange in a salad dish, pour over the remainder of dressing, garnish with white celery leaves.

FASHION HINTS

A SEASON OF COLOR
There is surprisingly little black used this year even for day wear. Very dark green, navy blue, reds and the tan shades have quite overshadowed it.

VERY PRACTICAL TOO
One of the most popular combinations of the season is the velvet skirt and the jumper of metal cloth or of metal brocade shot with brilliant colors.

VELVET RIBBON USED
Velvet ribbon is seen as a trimming on all types of frock, but particularly on dance and dinner frocks.

FACTORY MAKES
WEDDING RINGS
BY THE CARLOAD

BY CYNTHIA GREY

Out in the New Jersey marshes, among those desolate stretches where the steel right of way of the Pennsylvania Railroad bisects an interminable plain given over to factories and untenanted bog, there stands a huge factory, visible plainly to travelers on the trains that constantly whiz past.

It is a three-story affair, of brick, and covers a considerable area. It looks, too, what with trucks going and coming, freight cars on the siding and smoke issuing from its chimneys.

And in this factory they do not, in the world except make wedding rings.

Across the front of the building, facing the tracks, is a monstrous sign, lighted by night, setting forth that so-and-so's wedding rings are the "standard of the world."

Think of the number of wedding rings that must be turned out daily in a factory of that size! Think of the carloads of them going off to every part of the union—perhaps to every part of the world, for the big sign's boast may be true for ought I know.

If I were possessed of untold wealth

—what a pleasant way to begin a sentence—I say, if I were possessed of untold wealth, I should endow a special train on the Pennsylvania Railroad to do nothing except cruise back and forth in front of that factory. And on it I would put the more raucous of our novelists, magazine writers and viewers with alarm, those gloomy people who are certain that America is headed straight for a moralless land of free love and no babies, and let

Household Hints

CEREALS WELL COOKED

Cereals should absorb all the water they are cooked in. If too moist when they are nearly done, cook uncovered for a time.

TASTELESS MEAT

Never allow your meat to boil. Boiling meat at a high temperature makes it tasteless. Start cooking the significance of that factory sink deep, deep into their souls.

Our country must be pretty solid and respectable after all.

For they're making wedding rings by the carload lot.

meat in cold water, let it come to the boiling point and then simmer.

BETTER TASTE IN VEGETABLES
Soak all vegetables in cold water before cooking. This will make the vegetables crisp and more tasty and will also remove all insect eggs and dirt that still remain on them.

SAVES YOUR STRENGTH

If you have a small family you may save time and strength by doing your dishes all at one time. Scrape and pile them in an orderly pile, pour hot water over them, and let them stand until the most convenient hour for washing them.

BAKING MOLASSES CAKES

Cakes containing molasses burn easily. They should be baked in tin lined with greased paper and in an oven that is not too hot.

HOT WATER FOR TEA

When you are making tea be sure that the water is boiling hot, before you pour it over the tea leaves.

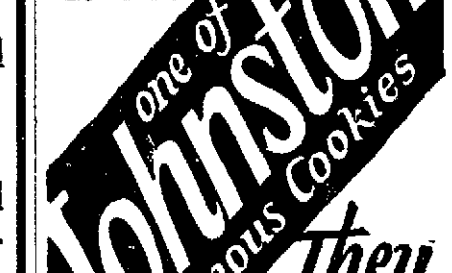

Water below the boiling point will give the tea a flat, bitter taste.

KEEP MEATS FROM SPOILING
Do not keep your meat in the paper in which it has been brought home. Place it on a plate and put it into your ice-box immediately. Meat wrapped in paper will spoil under the best conditions.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-
COTT TO RUTH BURKE, CON-TINUED

About an hour later we all went to our rooms and, although I was much excited about Zoe, and the happenings of the day, I went to sleep. It could not have been more than three-quarters of an hour afterward that I was awakened. At first I wasn't sure whether I had dreamed a scream or whether it was reality. I felt immediately, however, that something was wrong.

I pulled the electric light cord hanging over my bed, and, to my horror, I found that there was no electricity. It wouldn't light. Then I knew something was wrong.

As I passed Jack's door on my way to the nursery, I called, "Jack, Jack, there's something wrong and the lights are out."

I found to my relief that everything was still and quiet in the nursery and I knew the babies were all right and fast asleep. I felt my way to Zoe's door which opens off the nursery, and called her softly so as not to awake the babies. There was no answer.

I felt my way to Zoe's bed and running my hand over the pillows I found they had not been disturbed. Just then, Ruth, through the house reentered the most terrible scream I have ever heard. It was quick, suppressed as though a hand had been put forcibly over it. I stumbled to the door that opens into the hall. I was so frightened that for a moment or two I could not remember where that door was. It was a horrible feeling. At last, however, I found it and to my surprise it was open.

I caught my breath convulsively, and peered into the darkness. That hall with the wall of the staircase was the blackest hole I have ever experienced. You can imagine by horror when coming up from the hall below I heard a scuffle and a blow as though something had come in forcible contact with the stair rail. I did not know whether it was coming up or going down.

At that instant, someone who had been upstairs passed me and partly fell down the staircase with a rush. My throat was so constricted with fear that I could hardly call to Jack, who at this moment came stumbling out of his room calling me.

"What is the matter, Leslie, dear?" "What is the matter?" he said as he flung his arm around me.

"Something awful has happened down there."

He did not answer. Just started for the stairs. I clung to his arm which was around me, my other hand found the stair rail.

Silently we went down step by step, I clinging to the rail.

When we reached the bottom, my hand suddenly encountered something warm and sticky on the newel post. I almost fainted. I knew it was blood.

Adventures Of The Twins

THE WOODEN CIRCUS

The Twins left the king and queen and all their queer subjects at the side of the July Pole, the lavender and orange and pink and blue ribbons all scattered about like an exploded rain bow.

"That was a queer place!" cried marked Nancy. "And it was a good thing they let us go or we would find the Fairy Queen's honey bees."

May be we won't find them any way," said Nick. "No one here seems to know anything about them."

"About what please?" cried a wooden camel, brinking all his joints to a halt beside them. "If it is something else I was born without. I'll give you altogether and go and live in the circus in the Forest Zoo."

"If Humpty Dumpty isn't at it again!" cried the wooden elephant running up, and before the Twins could move, a whole wooden circus was crowding about them.

"What is Humpty Dumpty?" asked Nick. "And who is Humpty Dumpty?"

"Humpty Dumpty is the camel, so called on account of his humps, and he is also always in the dumps. Tell the sisters why Humpty is always in the dumps, boys."

"He's jealous because he has no mane," replied the lion. "If he only knew what a trouble it was, he would be thankful he didn't have one."

"Is it a bother?" asked Nancy. "I suppose it is the coming that pulls."

"Coming?" cried the lion. "No, it's the writing. There are two kinds of mane and I always spell it the wrong way in a letter."

"And he's jealous of my nose," said the wooden hippopotamus. "If he only knew what trouble I, too, have with spelling it the right way. There are two kinds of noses. 'Dear knows' and 'I smell with my nose.' I always forget which is which, and half the time put a 'k' on mine."

"It needs nothing more on it than it has already," sniggered the wooden monkey.

"And he's jealous of my tail," said the wooden kangaroo, jumping a stiff jump. "I also have trouble, as there are two kinds of tails, too. So he would be thankful."

Suddenly the wooden camel began to laugh. He laughed so hard that all his wooden joints shook loose and his legs turned clear around. As for his head, it was entirely upside down. But still he laughed.

"Forevermore!" cried all the animals. "What's wrong now?"

"I just thought of something," said the wooden camel. "I have two humps and there are two ways to spell them also. H-u-m-p and h-u-m-p-h. Like the old ladies say when they are shocked. Now I'm happy."

Humpty Dumpty is happy at last, and all the wooden animals walking stilly away.

The Twins looked after them in surprise. What a queer place the Land of Wonders was, and no sun set of the Fairy Queen's toes!

HOMECOMING AT COLLEGE OPENS WITH "PEP" MEET

Massmeeting in Chapel Friday Evening Is Opening Gun of Big Celebration

The Lawrence 1925 Homecoming will start with a bang Friday night with the first massmeeting ever held in the Lawrence Memorial Chapel, as an attempt to stir up the Lawrence spirit and its maximum before the big homecoming game Saturday. Reports from Ripon indicate that the entire student body will follow the big Red eleven to Appleton, and the Lawrence cheering section must be organized to offset this vocal opposition.

Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of the college, Coach Mark Catlin, and prominent football men including "Pete" Briesse, captain of the team, will speak Friday night.

Lawrence alumni will begin their incoming march Friday night. A delegation of at least 100 is expected from Milwaukee, assembling at the library Saturday morning to attend Homecoming activities en masse. Alumni will register at the new Y. W. C. A. Hospitality House Saturday morning at 8:30 A. M. and Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The opening of the new Hospitality House at the corner at E. College and Union-st will be one of the features of the program. A housewarming is scheduled for Saturday afternoon after the game when students, alumni, and visitors will be given the opportunity to look the place over.

The program will end Saturday night with the homecoming dance in the Armory. Larry Lyons, Appleton, is chairman of the dance committee. Dancing will begin at 8 o'clock.

The variety of program, the accommodations of the new Geo. A. Whitling field for the athletic events, and the loyal support of the alumni promises to make the first Homecoming under the regime of the new president "bigger and better than ever."

SOLO ARTISTS HERE NEXT WEEK

Clayton Quast and Sybil Comer Fulfill Second Number of Auxiliary Course Oct. 30

Clayton Quast, baritone, and Sybil Comer, soprano, are coming here on Friday, Oct. 30, to fill a concert engagement, the second number of the artist course under auspices of the American Legion auxiliary. They will appear at Lawrence Memorial chapel.

Sale of season tickets has been renewed by the auxiliary at one-fifth less than the prices announced for the five numbers. These and single admission tickets have been placed on sale at Belling drug store, where seats may be reserved either for the season or for this number.

It is expected that Erma Blaine McKendry, dramatic reader who appears here Dec. 16, will draw one of the largest audiences, as she has been heard before by Appleton persons. They announce their intention of hearing her again.

Richard Czerwinsky, great violin virtuoso scheduled here Dec. 6, 1925, also is expected to attract a big house. This is his second appearance in Appleton, where he delighted many music lovers before. He has gained fame in both Europe and America, rising to prominence before he was 20 years old.

Those who know the nature of the program which is to be given by Branson DeCon on March 8 also declare they will be sure to attend. He shows "Dream Pictures." They are the best from a vast collection of scenic views he has taken in his travels all over America and are shown with accompaniment of classical music that fits the mood of each scene. The artistic effect and the emotional aspect make the program delightful and unique.

FOX RIVER IS LOWEST IT HAS BEEN IN YEARS

The Fox river last Monday was at the lowest level it ever has been, according to Albert S. Merritt, Green Bay, who takes daily readings of the lake level. He declared that on that day the level was 39 inches below normal for the year, and that normal for this year is 1 1/2 feet below last year's normal. A loaded coal boat could not have negotiated the river Monday, in the opinion of Mr. Merritt. He takes his readings at the foot of Cedar-st near the F. Hurtbur company coal office at Green Bay.

The river was low all last week; Oct. 11 it was 34 inches below normal; on Oct. 13, 24 inches below; on Oct. 14 it was 22 inches under normal; on Oct. 15, 34 inches under; and on Oct. 19 it reached the lowest level, 39 inches below normal.

The lowering level was first noticed after Sept. 1, according to Mr. Merritt. Before that time it was quite even. He gives no explanation of the variation.

Dull--Unfit

Watch a sparkling drink change things in an hour

Often men and women rise in the morning feeling dull and unfit, because the system is clogged. The poisons and wastes depress them.

There are long ways and short ways to a remedy, but the shortest and pleasantest is this:

Drink a glass of water on rising, either hot or cold. Add a little Jad Salts. It will make a sparkling, pleasant drink. That will flush the intestines. Note the radical change in an hour.

The results come from acids derived from lemon and grapes, plus lithia, etc. And they are at your command every hour of the day.

Learn what Jad Salts mean to you. How soon they can change conditions. They may save you countless hours of depression. The coupon will bring you a liberal sample. Ask us for it—now.

Student Council Plans Explained To H. S. Pupils

Reports of activities of the student council of Appleton high school so far this year and an outline of the program for the remainder of the school term were read to the student body Thursday morning during the assembly period. William Lee, president of the group gave the report of activities of the council, how it was elected, its duties and told of the purport and gave a brief history of its work. Three representatives of each class chosen by their rates meet with the principal weekly to discuss student problems and to work out solutions. The first council was organized in 1913.

The organization brings the students and faculty together in a unified school life and lets everyone connected with the school know what is being done at all times, according to Principal H. H. Hebble. In this way the students know they are having a large part in moulding the affairs of the school as they would want them and consequently feel their responsibility and show great interest in school affairs. They also are proud to see things go right and in this way the school is practically governed well by the students themselves, Mr. Hebble said.

Josephine Buchanan, secretary-treasurer of the council, told of the program for the remainder of the year and read the aims of the group for the school. These emphasized cooperation of students in keeping the buildings and grounds in good condition; the need of school social affairs, such as parties, three of which will be given the first semester; repudiating poor school spirit in students; taking care of lost books; raising scholarship marks.

The council frowns on the wearing even. He gives no explanation of the variation.

Watching the river level has been a hobby with him for years and he has data which may prove of value in the fight on the Chicago "water steal." His observations, relayed to the Sturgeon Bay canal, also are expected to be of assistance to vessels bound for Green Bay.

of the school A except by those who have earned it and declared that no class officer will be allowed to hold office unless he has a passing mark in all but one subject, much the same as athletic requirements. ## HOSPITALITY HOUSE READY FOR USE SOON

The work of furnishing and equipping the new college Hospitality house has almost been completed, according to Helen Duncan, 28, of Kenosha, who is chairman of the house committee. The house will be opened for a housewarming after the homecoming game Saturday.

One of the large rooms in the house will be furnished in the formal atmosphere of Windsor, as a reception room or for use when the occasion demands dignity. The other large room will be furnished in an informal and picturesque manner with tapestry and chintz hangings.

NOTRE DAME STUDENTS WILL STOP IN OSHKOSH

Mass will be said for approximately 500 University of Notre Dame students at St. Peter church, Oshkosh, on Sunday morning, Oct. 25. The students will be enroute from Minneapolis where Knute Rockne's football team will engage the University of Minnesota squad the day before. At least this many students are expected to accompany the team. Invitation to Notre Dame students to attend mass at the Oshkosh church was sent the university following an inquiry from that institution as to whether the church accommodate that many in church on Sunday.

year. Three years ago the club presented with much success "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" by Moliere, and much interest has been created by the prospect of their second venture in the field.

An affiliation with the "Alliance Francaise," national French organization, is also being considered.

New Fords—and Old

EITHER way, cheapened motor fuel is not for you. Maybe that sounds a bit grabby for Wadhams, but it's so true that you ought to listen.

Take the shiny new model. What a shame to argue that because it didn't cost a fortune it should get along on cheap gas. That's just why it shouldn't! Remember it's a speed production job that can't be expected to enjoy Rolls-Royce perfection of piston fit. Obviously there's more opportunity for cheap fuel's deadly kerosene drippage to get in its work.

It can't be a new Ford very long in the face of that—so start it right and keep it so.

And take the middle-aged and old ones—clear down to the comedy kind looking as though they would barely stagger their next mile—and laughing at themselves with ludicrous labels. Wear and general let-down of efficiency have already set in. They plumb need good gas to keep them up to the going mark with decent comfort.

Wadhams 370
True Gasoline
(at the Yellow Pumps)

is the right gas for the Ford Motor—for the same reason that it is the right gas for every other car's engine. Better starting, better daily running, better condition of the motor and whole running system after months or years of wear. Less expense, both for mileage and repair.

What if a little real gasoline does get by the pistons? It's not kerosene. It is evaporated right out by the crank case heat instead of staying there to cut your oil protection. And count what its lack of free carbon will save you in labor or cost of scraping.

30 GIRLS ENTERED IN DECLAMATORY CONTEST

About 15 girls of Appleton high school took part in the tryouts for the declamatory contest Thursday afternoon at Moose hall. Another 15 were to tryout Friday afternoon at the hall and the winners of the two tryouts will take part in the school contest in the near future. The winner of that contest will represent Appleton against the pick of five other Wisconsin high schools in the annual contest of the Fox River Valley High School Forensic Conference at Marinette on Dec. 11. Miss Ruth McKennon of the high school faculty is in charge of the work.

GET MOTION PICTURES OF HOMECOMING GAME

Motion picture photographers will visit Appleton Saturday to take pictures of the Ripon-Lawrence football game, the feature of the Lawrence college homecoming program. The game is to be played on the new George A. Whitcomb field, one of the finest college grounds in the country and the pictures will place the field before the sport public. The film probably will be shown in Appleton later in the year.

COMMISSION ADVISES SELECTED IMMIGRATION

Brisbane —(A)— The need for the selection of immigrants, deportation of convicted aliens and the keeping of a record of all aliens in the commonwealth is stressed in a report by T. A. Ferry, under-chief secretary and commissioner of prices, who was recently appointed head of a Royal Commission to inquire into the social and economic effect of the increase in number of aliens in North Queensland.

Mr. Ferry suggests a stricter medical examination and expresses the view that the existence of foreign clubs is undesirable. The present alien influx is largely from Sicily and Northern Italy, the emigrants going into the sugar industry.

Alderman George T. Richard, who was confined to his home for several days with illness, is able to be back at his duties at the Outagamie Loan & Title Co. office.

The Secret of Good Baking

Every woman can enjoy the best bread and pastry if she knows how to test her flour and then uses a flour that stands the test. Read these 5 important tests for good flour.

5 important tests

1. COLOR: Does it have the creamy white natural wheat color?
2. TEXTURE: Does it have a smooth silky appearance?
3. FLAVOR: Does it have a rich nut taste?
4. ELASTICITY: Does the dough have a strong, springy feeling?
5. INFORMITY: Does the dough work up the same in every batch so that your bread is always good?

There are many flours, including well advertised brands, that can stand three or four tests, but there are few that can stand the "all 5" test. The lack of any one of these qualities results in less satisfactory baking. It requires 1/3 of these qualities to make the best bread. We GUARANTEE that BIG JO will stand EVERYONE of these tests.

Keeps bread fresh longer

Besides measuring up to the "all 5" test for good flour, BIG JO possesses a special quality of keeping bread FRESH LONGER. This is because BIG JO is made from strong hard wheat—extra rich in gluten which absorbs more water in making dough. This EXTRA absorbed water keeps bread or pastry fresh much longer. Try a sack of BIG JO today and see how much longer your bread or pastry stays FRESH. Phone your grocer NOW.

More bakings per sack

This water absorbing quality of BIG JO flour due to the use of strong hard wheat, rich in gluten, makes BIG JO an economical flour. A sack of BIG JO will go further because you use LESS FLOUR to get the same size loaf. If you want the best bread from BIG JO, scant your flour. Less flour to each baking. Try a sack of BIG JO today and see how much flour you save on each baking.

Money-Back GUARANTEE

Phone your grocer now for a sack of BIG JO. Try several bakings of bread, biscuits, pie or cake. Make the "all 5" test. See how much flour you save. See how much longer your bread or cake stays fresh. See why many housewives who, when they were little girls, learned from their mothers to use BIG JO flour, still use BIG JO today. Then if you do not feel that you are more satisfied with BIG JO than any flour you ever used—that it saves you money—that your bread stays fresh longer, and that you are truly DELIGHTED, return the unused portion of the sack to your grocer and every cent will be cheerfully refunded. Isn't that fair?

You Can't Beat The Quality

WE have experimented to the extent of several thousand dollars to obtain for Mory Ice Cream, the deliciousness and flavor that it now has. So rich—so home-like,—and yet with a fine texture that only our modern equipment can produce.

STRICTLY fresh eggs in more generous quantities, rich cream and milk thoroughly pasteurized before using—careful mixing of other ingredients and freezing exactly to the degree necessary are the contributing factors to this fine new flavor found for our ice cream.

Fighting with its back to the well-known wall, Lawrence college football team will enter the game with its oldest rival, Ripon, here Saturday afternoon determined to make a comeback. Stricken by the loss of three first string men in less than a week, the Blues will face the hardest task of any college squad in the state and the fact that it is a Homecoming attraction will make the job even harder. A hard-fought Ripon team, primed to take advantage of the situation will arrive here Friday evening. Ripon has lost two battles this season and a team that is in that class always is a dangerous opponent when it is backed by fight.

The Big Red crew has a chance to give the crippled Blues a bad beating and humble its bitterest rivals before the Homecoming crowd. Last year Ripon was the surprise of the state season, holding the crack Blues to a 7-1 tie a week after the local squad had held the heavy Iowa Western Conference gridders to a low score on its home field. While most reports gave the Reds a weak team, the line was one of the best in the state and Blue coaches look for plenty of trouble from the front wall. Captain Hauser and Stamm at tackle and Rose, center, are the nucleus of the heavy front barrier. All three are vets of three years standing and Riponites expect them to tear the Blue line to pieces. A fair, speedy backfield which functions well behind such a line, makes the Reds dangerous to the average team, and at present the Blues are far from averages. The teams are tied for the Little Five lead at present.

START DEFENSIVE GAME
Coach Mark Catlin, with his offensive power cut about in half, plans to start off with a strong defensive game with plenty of kicking in an attempt to retrieve the Blue fortunes and send the vast crowd of alumni home happy. With this in mind Boettcher probably will start at end and the best defensive backfield with Bloomer at quarter, Zussman and Nobles at halves and Briese at full will back up the scrimmage line. Every member of this rear wall crew is an expert on stopping passes with Zussman and Briese as special stars in this department and all are good tacklers. Among other men who will get a chance in the backfield during the battle are Heidenan, speedy end runner, Nobles and Boettcher.
Steenland, Boettcher and Bayer, regular ends will see service at these jobs and Premo and Counsell veterans will fill in at tackles. Hipke will be in his usual place at center. The guards will be taken care of by green men in Schini, Ott, Schwager or Boettcher. Shini played nice ball in substituting for the injured Weinlauf last week and Ott has looked good for the short time he has been in the first two games. Boettcher is a husky boy of the line-crashing type and had been used at fullback and end. Schwager, a 1924 reserve, is a capable lineman but a trifle slow.

FURNITURE BOWLERS TAKE OLYMPIC TITLE

Dreitschneider Furniture Co., bowling squad, conquerors of Fox River Chevrolet Co., became champions of the Olympic Alloys Thursday evening by virtue of a three-game win over the strong Hotel Northern quintet. G. Jimos of the winners shot the high game for the evening with a 225 and his mates piled up enough pins to garner a 285 pin victory. Other 200 scores went to W. Horn of the winners with 205 and H. Berge of the losers with 207. Any teams desiring games with the Dreitschneider crew are requested to get in touch with Capt. G. Jimos.

Chicago Invades East To Battle Pennsylvania

Chicago—"On to Pennsylvania" is the battle cry as Coach Stagg's warriors prepare for the Quakers' next Saturday. Chicago will invade the East to meet the conquerors of Yale in the most important intersectional game will be of unusual significance for Field, the undefeated Pennsylvania team will defend its honors against the fighting Maroons who likewise have not met defeat this season. The game will of unusual significance for Penn was one of three claimants for the championship of the East last year, while Chicago won the championship of the Big Ten.
When Chicago takes the field Saturday, it will be reminiscent of 1921, when Chicago defeated Princeton at Princeton 9-0. On that day, three fullbacks, Timme, John Thomas, and Zorn, tore the Princeton line to shreds, carrying the ball for the first downs against 3 of Princeton's. Next Saturday, Chicago will again have Timme, but also will have two other flashy fullbacks in "Pete Yard" McCarty and Gene Francis. McCarty last year was the hero of the famous Illinois game, leading the attack which scored three touchdowns against the Illinois line. Nor will Chicago have to rely on its fullbacks only, for Kernwein, star left half back, is an end runner whose 35 yard run last Saturday led to Chicago's first score. Many fans count on Chuck Duval, forward passer of renown, who throws the oval as far as 50 yards, with Little effort.
A powerful line, averaging over 190 lbs. from end to end, will battle Penn's triple threat back.
France is willing to forgive and forget if Johnny Dundee will return to that country and meet Fred Beatonnel in a fight from which he withdrew a year ago.

Orangemen Primed For Battle With West Green Bay

COLONELS FAVORITES IN LITTLE CLASSIC

ROCHESTER CREW TRAVELS WIDELY

Team Which Meets Bays on Grid Not Allowed to Play on Sunday at Home

Green Bay—Manager Lyons of the Rochester Jeffs, the team that meets the Packers here on Sunday in a pro league, rises to remark that without his release during the fall several of the railroads in the country would be forced to pass up their regular dividends.
One of the necessary bits of equipment for the Rochester players is a staunch traveling bag. Any player who is liable to car sickness can't stand the gaff with the Big Red Team from the Kodak city.
Not so long ago the natives of Rochester enjoyed their football games on Sunday. About two years ago, the Walker bill passed the New York legislature. This measure legalized baseball between the hours of 2 and 6 on the Sabbath day but prevented other kinds of sport at which admission was charged.
Consequently, Rochester started traveling and the Jeffs have been on the road every Sunday for about two years. Manager Lyons as taken his club into nearly every city where the post graduate sport is played and there is always a return engagement awaiting him if he wants to go back again.

GOLF As Champions Play It

WHEN PLAYING IN THE RAIN TEE THE BALL HIGHER

Is it necessary to change the style of play when golfing in the rain? If so, what changes should be made?

BY CYRIL WALKER
National Open Champion, 1924
Yes. Try to carry the ball farther in the air from the tee which means a little higher, and on all shots to the green hit the ball up to the pin.

The turf follower who likes to play bunches is disappointed over failure of the second race at Empire City Thursday to produce a winner a horse which cost his present owner only five cents. Reprisal, sold to Tommy Maher by Frank Kelly when dependent over losses, was heralded for a sensational comeback but came in ninth.

The story that Luis Firpo may meet Floyd Johnson in Buenos Aires if the pieces remain intact after Johnson's meeting with Harry Wills is somewhat exaggerated, Firpo wires.

Primed to give West Green Bay high school the hardest fight it will have this season, Coach McAuliffe's fighting Orange gridders will leave Saturday for the Bay city. The game will put the loser temporarily out of the running for the valley conference title and will give the winners a big show for the hunting. With Fond du Lac, tied for first, playing a non-conference game and East Green Bay and Marinette, undefeated to date, doing battle at Marinette, every team in the conference will have played at least one game and only three squads, two beside Fondy, will remain on top.

MACMEN WORK HARD

Mac has been working his boys hard all week to overcome several bad faults disclosed in the Fondy game. In and practice and should have a well-trained eleven at the Bay. Work on breaking passes and West high plays has occupied most of the time as well as tackling practice with a "human dummy" under full headway. The Orange is beginning to improve in this department of play but there still is plenty of room for more improvement. Skull practice was held this week and a small gridiron made by the manual training department was used for the work. Movable blocks of wood represented players of the contending teams and in this way methods of attack and defense are worked out by the Orange men themselves. A ball coated with white enamel also has been used to keep the Orangemen going after darkness fell.

PRACTICALLY LAME SQUAD

Work during the final two days of the week probably caused Mac to start back at the disputed tackle job but Schultz and possibly Heinritz will get a crack at it before the battle is over. Packard has been hitting his man hard in spite of injuries and should give his opponent a hard battle. Schultz also can step right into the breach, though his tackling still is a little high. The remainder of the front wall will be the same with Big Uebelacker at center, flanked by Haag and Liethen. Cully Voceks, star tackle of the conference, and Packard will star at the next posts and Bob Ashman and Norb Pfefferle will work on ends. The new backfield of Kitzinger, quarterback; Steenis, fullback, and Johnston and Rammer, halves is ready to start. Older men who probably will get in during the fray are Struts and Roemer, backs; Kruse, guard, and Laird, tackle.

TWO TIE BATTLES

West high came out of the Kaukauna game in the best condition it has been in since the season started and is primed for a great battle. The game Saturday will be the official booster game of the Bay school and a large crowd is expected to attend. Many local high students and townspeople will make the trip. The games of the last two seasons between the two schools have ended in 6-6 and 6-0 ties and both will work extra hard to break the jinx. The crews are evenly matched in every way, insuring a good game.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

We just can't help ourselves, we one to bet on the results—they might make a few guesses on Saturday's games, but we don't advise any. Picking exact scores is a dangerous thing. Well here goes—

APPLETON 6, WEST GREEN BAY 0
East Green Bay 3, Marinette 0
Kaukauna 21, Neenah 0

Knox 50, Beloit 10.
WISCONSIN 10, PURDUE 3

Two more H's contris to close the discussion of last evening.

Dear Dave:

Adolphus reminds me of the story of the man who kept on talking for three weeks after his death.

Who care's whether Weinlauf or Kotal was the greater loss to the team? Respective merits are fine for the winter stove session, but don't you think Adolphus we might get together and boost the present Lawrence "team," forgetting what might have happened. You probably sat on the sidelines last Saturday and said, "I told you so" instead of giving your best to the "team." Once upon a time we were all behind the Lawrence "team." Get with us again Adolphus.

No relation to Adolphus.

May I write the final chapter in this argument that has waged in your column for the last several days. The communication in yesterday's paper was the poorest piece of headwork I've seen in a long time.

First of all, after you made your statement in a recent issue of the P.-C., the matter should have been dropped and never taken up in the column again.

Then came the ill-begotten statement of one Adolphus and the communication has left a bad impression on a lot of people. Kotal was missed as any star would be; Weinlauf was missed, he had great potential possibilities and Schini played to the best of his ability which is all we ask.

But to kick the qualities of these men around in the column of a newspaper is not helping the Lawrence team. And furthermore the late article left a reflection on the name of a player who gave all that was to be desired. I ask that out of common sense the matter be dropped; that the persons with a grudge fight it out face to face not over unsigned communications.

I'm the author of one story in Sunday's Journal and know who wrote the other.
Yours for good sportsmanship,
Gordon McIntyre, '28.

The annual home coming at St. Norbert's college is scheduled for Oct. 31-Nov. 1. The feature event will be the football game between De Paul college of Chicago and the Green and White. The team from the Windy City is coached by Eddie Anderson, former Notre Dame star and end for the Chicago Cardinals.

Coach Baker will take his Fond du Lac high eleven to Wayland Academy at Beaver Dam on Saturday for a grid mix. The Cardinal schoolers had a vacation last week and they should be "rarin' to go" for the fray. The Academy team is pretty heavy but Fondy is fast enough to run 'em ragged.

The Menasha semi pro footballers will invade Sturgeon Bay this week end. The Athletics from the Cherry country have a pretty fair aggregation and they are all set to hand the Falls a pigskin lesson. It is said that several Normal school stars will perform with the Menasha eleven.

BERLIN STARTS MOVE TO REVIVE MILITARY BANDS

Berlin—(AP)—Efforts are being made to revive the old time military bands which formerly were a popular part of every-day German life. In recent years they have given way to string orchestras and jazz bands.
In the movement to bring the military bands back to its own, a monster concert was organized recently at the Stadion when 20 bands played simultaneously under the direction of Professor Oscar Hackenberger. More than 20,000 persons attended.

GRID GAMES ARE BATTLES BETWEEN INDIVIDUAL MEN

Kutsch Vs. Marek and Grange Vs. Friedman Duels Hold Interest of Fans

No work—Football move toward the peak of a colorful campaign today with its enthusiasm slightly toned by the crippling of powerful eastern teams through injuries to their stars.

Coach by the 63 year old A. A. Stagg (Chicago University) Saturday will meet undefeated Pennsylvania in the leading intersectional struggle of the day.

Lehigh made ready to battle Rutgers at New Brunswick, N. J. LaPorte warriors meet Washington and Jefferson Saturday.

The Colgate-Princeton contest is a meeting of undefeated eleven.

Yale holds its annual conflict with Brown Saturday. Harvard faces a determined Dartmouth team.

Columbia will receive Williams at Baker field Saturday.

The two service teams Army and Navy are not looking for serious opposition St. Louis and Washington respectively.

BIG INDIVIDUAL FIGHTS

Chicago, Ill. —(AP)—Football fans of the western conference moving by the thousands into scenes of Saturday's battles expect the two major struggles in the title campaign to simmer down to sensational duels for individual honors. Ready to match wit and speed with the famous Harold "Red" Grange, Illini captain and All-American back, is Benny Friedman, the Michigan quarterback, who like the Wheaton iceman last week grabbed a kickoff and raced more than four score yards for a touchdown.

The Iowa-Ohio state struggle is between "Cowboy Nick" Kutsch, the flying Dutchman, leading point scorer of the big ten and premier ground gainer, and Elmer Marek, the Buckeye triple threat sophomore product of Iowa prep schools.

The probable performances of these four are the subject of argument and speculation as Michigan and Iowa take out travel kinks Friday.

PURDUE VS WISCONSIN
The Wolverines have a last minute casualty in Edwards, veteran tackle, who has not recovered from the torn ligament injuries suffered last week. The other top notch contenders are in good shape. Purdue is turning history's pages back a decade in its trip to Wisconsin and is hopeful of reversing the story of the ten games played to 1915. The Badgers took a 12-0 tie one. Purdue won in 1922.

Wisconsin counts on regaining prestige lost by the Michigan defeat in a win over the Boonmakers, who opened their Big Ten schedule with the game.

Like the Rocher, Notre Dame mentor, has "mystery team" off for Minnesota. Since the Army Defeat Rocher has shuffled his squad sending Eddie Schaefer from quarterback to half and sending in the neophytes, Hogan to left tackle and Lepping to left guard. Dr. Spears' Gophers are primed for their first stiff opposition.

Chicago carries Western pride and hope in its invasion of the east to "Beat Penn." Likewise Northwestern is prepared to uphold Northern football prestige against the assault of Tulane, Louisiana "Green Wave."

Miami is in Bloomington for its meeting with Indiana.

H. S. COACH ASKS MORE STUDENT AID

Dates and Football Don't Mix, MacAuliffe Tells High School People

Decriing the lack of spirit which brought only about 16 boys out for the high school football squad each afternoon, Coach John "Mac" Mac-

Auliffe, asked the student body for better cooperation at a mass meeting in the assembly Friday morning as a preparation for the Appleton-West Green Bay game at Green Bay Saturday. Mr. MacAuliffe, the principal speaker on the program, stated that "dates" and football did not mix well and asked cooperation from the girls. He said that he could hardly be expected to build up an efficient machine without even enough men out to scrimmage the regulars. His appeal met with an instant response and seven students reported for suits.

The high school band made its first appearance in its new military uniforms which arrived this week and paraded down the aisles before going in learning of the time we have spent in securing such equipment as will make your hunting trips successful and enjoyable, but you are interested in knowing where you can secure this equipment at the right price when you want it.

You Are Not Interested

WE SUGGEST:

Peter's High Velocity Shells.	Lined Leather Mittens with shooting finger.
Duxbak Hunting Coats,	16" High Top Leather Boots
Duxbak Waterproof Hunting Pants.	Heavy Wool Socks
Converse Rod and Reel Hip Boots, Featherweight with cork insole for warmth.	Allen's Duck Call.
Lined Rubber Gloves for setting out decoys.	Flashlight.
	Lunch Kit.
	Vacuum Bottle

It is a fact that more ducks have been shot this week than at any previous week during this season. Are you going to get your share?

Classified Advertising

All ads are restricted to their proper classifications and to the regular Appleton Post-Crescent style of type.

Daily rate per line for consecutive insertions: Charges Cash

One day ..... 12
Three days ..... 30
Six days ..... 50
Minimum charge, 50c.

Advertising ordered for irregular insertions takes the normal line insertion rate, no ad taken for less than basis of two lines. Count 6 average words to a line.

Charged ads will be received by telephone and if paid at office within six days from the first day of insertion cash rate will be allowed.

Ads ordered for three days or six days and stopped before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appeared and adjustment made at the rate earned.

Special rate for yearly advertising upon request.

Advertisers reserve the right to edit or reject any classified advertising copy. The following classification headings appear in this newspaper in the numerical order here given, closely allied classifications being grouped together.

The Business Of Getting Together

Just what service do the great conveniences of modern life perform for you?

What is the value to you of being able to send a telegram, to talk over the telephone or to take an overland limited train?

These are simply means of your getting together with people you must be in touch with-on matters of business or friendship. Isn't that the answer?

And coming down to everyday matters isn't that the reason why the A-B-C Classified Section serves so many Appleton people in so many different ways?

The little classified ads that you read serve as connecting lines between you and people who are making offers that you want to accept or who want things that you have to offer. They help to carry on the profitable business of Getting Together for Appleton people every day!

HOLD RECEPTION FOR STUDENTS IN NEW CHURCH

A reception for all students and faculty of Lawrence college is to be held from 4 o'clock to 5:30 Friday afternoon in the new Methodist church. One of the features of the reception will be an organ recital by Russell Hayton, a student at Lawrence Conservatory of Music.

Approximately 400 persons are expected to attend the first banquet in the new dining room at 6:30 Friday night. Dr. A. A. Trevor is to preside at the banquet, in the absence of Dr. O. Kinsman who is ill. A program of speakers and music has been arranged for the event. Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college, will be the chief speaker and will talk on "The Community and the Church."

A large number of visitors are expected in the city Saturday because of Lawrence homecoming and it has been announced that the church will be open to inspection by visitors from 9 to 12 o'clock Saturday.

4 KILLED

London—(AP)—Dispatch to the Exchange Telegram company from Athens says Greeks had four killed and eight wounded, one of the latter a captain, during the fighting Thursday which ended in the Greeks re-occupying Post 69 and Demir-Kapu.

ORDERS WITHDRAWAL

Vienna—(AP)—Dispatches from Sofia is announcing that the minister of war has ordered the Bulgarian forces along the Macedonia frontier to withdraw because of the preponderance of weight of the opposing Greek forces, declare "that the people of Bulgaria are patiently waiting action by the powers to compel Greece to answer Bulgaria's demand for an investigation of the events leading up to hostilities near Demichissar."

LENROOT PROTESTS

Boston—Senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin in an address before the Boston Chamber of Commerce Thursday night said that if the Balkan states should engage in war "I would not send a single American soldier over there to fight and die in that quarrel."

"Any practical plan for the avoidance of war in the future," he said, "should have our support provided our own independence and sovereignty be not thereby surrendered. I have little patience with general formulas for the outlawry of war and proposals to make war a crime, subject to punishment. I believe we have no right to sacrifice the lives of American boys in quarrels which do not concern us, but arguments between nations to respect the rights of others and refrain from war should be freely entered into the United States and encouraged."

"The whole world rejoices over the outcome of the Locarno conference. I regard it as the greatest achievement for peace that was taken within the last century."

APPLETON MAN GIVES LATIMER MURDER TIP

The youth left it at the garage to be fixed, "He was too much, Jamie warned him he would not be permitted to drive away until he paid the bill, Jamie and others saw the youth sneak an automatic windshield wiper out of the garage. They said nothing, for his car was still in their possession. Later, the youth got his uncle to go surety for payment of the repair bill.

Jamie demanded the windshield wiper before the boy took the car. The youth denied taking it. Jamie seized him and took the windshield wiper from his pocket. The young man drove away cursing Jamie.

DOORS KEPT LOCKED

While the coupe was in the garage for repairs, the doors were locked and the youth would not open them even to permit repairmen to work.

Coroner Joseph Friend questioned the boy's uncle Thursday. "The boy, he learned, drove out of Kenosha the Sunday before Sears and Madelynnne were killed. He was bound for his home in Iowa. Since then, however, the uncle received word from the youth's parents that he had not arrived home. The parents asked the uncle to find the boy and tell him his grandmother had died. The youth has not been found.

Kenosha police are interested in the report of two Milwaukee women that they saw a young man walking back and forth in front of Madelynnne's

ACTED STRANGELY

Mrs. Alvina O'Neil, who lives at the same address where Madelynnne roomed, 314 Twelfth-st., saw the young man when she looked out a window. She said he was about 6 feet tall, very thin, and wore a soft gray felt hat and a gray overcoat.

Mrs. Walter Haney, 337 Nineteenth-st., was sitting with her husband in an automobile parked across the street. She saw the man and remarked he rather suspicious actions.

Five friends were called to the office of Sheriff Frank Willems of Kenosha to tell what they knew as to Sears' life, habits and companions, and two others were questioned and had their fingerprints taken. The fingerprints did not like those found on the automobile in which Madelynnne and Sears were killed and the two were released.

Without a suspect under arrest, authorities Thursday night were checking up on a touring car that was found abandoned. It was said to bear license plates issued to a telephone worker in South Milwaukee.

Further investigation of a telephone call from Kenosha to Madelynnne by a man named Pierce revealed that it had been made by Sears from a telephone other than the one he customarily used and the name had been misunderstood by the telephone operator.
